Russia Asserts Britain, U.S. Threat to U.N.

Soviet Statement Says Allies Joined in Policy of Aggression

MOSCOW, Jan. 29 (Saturday) (AP).—Russia accused Britain and the United States today of trying to undermine the United Nations with a North Atlantic pact.

In a 34-page statement the Ministry of Foreign Affairs declared:

"The U.S.S.R. must take into consideration the fact that ruling circles of the United States and Great Britain have entered upon an openly aggressive course of policy, the final purpose of which is establishment by force of Anglo-American world domination.

ALLEGES PLOT

"It is apparent to everyone," the ministry continued, "that a plot is presently being carried out against the United Nations, inasmuch as it—even though in only a small measure—hinders and holds back aggressors and their policy of aggression and unleashing a new war.

"In view of this situation, the Soviet Union must more firmly and more insistently fight against the undermining and wrecking of the United Nations' organization by aggressive elements and their followers."

The statement said that Russia must see to it that the United Nations is not "by-passed as so often happened."

The statement said that behind the Western European Union lay "plans for establishing Anglo-American world domination."

"Under such conditions," it declared, "participation of the U.S.S.R. and countries of the new democracy in the North Atlantic Pact or similar alliances of states is, of course, completely out of the question."

In one part of the statement, the ministry said Britain and France with support from the United States have "broken with peace-loving policy and taken the road of preparing for new aggression in Europe."

Captain's Quiet Report Tells of Island Rescue

The Island Commander, using makeshift gear, smashed its way through 3½ miles of five-inch ice in seven hours to reach the seven persons trapped by ice for a month in a remote bay on Muchalat Arm.

This was the gist of a quiet report given by Capt. Arthur Warren when he brought his 125-foot tug back into the Inner Harbor here at 9.10 o'clock last night.

Capt. Warren said the seven had been trapped badly and had been existing for days on canned beans and clams. Supplies of meat, butter and bread had been exhausted.

The tug was met six miles south of Victoria by the Island Trooper which rushed films, taken of rescue operations by crew members, to the city for publication in The Colonist.

"TOUGH GOING"

"It was tough going," said Capt. Warren, "and I thought at times we would have to get a heavier ship to do the job."

He said that for the most of the afternoon, it was a matter of going full-ahead, breaking a few feet of the ice, stalling, backing up and taking another run at it.

Radio broadcasts had informed the party that help was on the way and they moved all their possessions down to their 36-foot cruiser Burman, frozen in at the water's edge.

CAMP CUT OFF

"It would have been impossible for them to have made their way out overland," said Capt. Warren. "The camp is in the centre of a range of mountains more than 2,000 feet high."

At one time, he said, they were going to lay planks and attempt to push a rowboat to the entrance. "They would never have made it. The ice was too thin to support a man's weight, and they would have ended in the water."

"They even tried securing logs to the cruiser and breaking their way out. It just didn't work. William Sloan daily chopped the ice around the frail boat so it was undamaged," said Capt. Warren.

Mrs. William Sloan, too ill to walk, told the captain she was "very happy to see the tug as it looked so big and powerful as it smashed its way through the ice."

SMALL WORLD

Leo Hunter, the tug's popular cook, said he served the people a mammoth dinner that would have kept them for a "couple of days." He observed it was a small world, noting that Mrs. J. A. Sloan, an English war bride, was born in the same London district as he was.

States C.S.U. Will Strike Over Wage Cut

HALIFAX, Jan. 28 (CP).—Gus Genites, port agent here of the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) said tonight the union will strike before it will accept any wage reduction.

His statement followed a union meeting which adopted a resolution urging that "all Canadian seamen mobilize immediately to take whatever action may be necessary to protect our living standards and Canada's merchant fleet."

Genites' reference to the wage reduction concerned current negotiations between the union and the Shipping Federation of Canada for a new wage contract. The federation is asking a conciliation board at Montreal to cut seamen's wages.

Genites said if there were a strike it would affect all deep-sea ports—at Saint John, Sydney, Halifax, and on the West Coast.

U.K. May Turn to B.C. For More Needed Lumber

VANCOUVER, Jan. 28 (CP).—The United Kingdom may buy more lumber from British Columbia this year than indicated in the short order received for the first half of 1949.

W. E. Uren, timber controller, said here today European countries are not in a position to supply timber totals included in recent "diplomatic trade pacts" with Britain.

British Columbia is one of the major sources of the supplies needed by Britain, and failure of the European pacts might mean a return to Canadian purchases.

Mr. Uren also said Japan is in the market for coal, millions of tons a year, from Luscar, Alta., and the Crow's Nest district.

"That coal might as well be carried in Canadian bottoms," he said. "I am exploring possibilities in Vancouver to ascertain whether it could be shipped from here on a competitive basis."

Mr. Uren said he had found no demand here for larger export quotas on lumber.

The "short" order contracts with Britain, for January to June, 1949, call for delivery of 100,000,000 board feet worth $7,000,000.

Allies Agree To Set Up Own "Council"

LONDON, Jan. 28 (CP).—Britain and her four Brussels Pact allies tonight agreed to set up a "Council of Europe," opening the way ultimately for a single parliament to represent all European democracies.

The compromise decision was announced following a two-day conference of the Foreign Ministers of Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

By giving the go-ahead signal, the ministers ended a deadlock which had extended for months.

First Exclusive Pictures of Island Rescue

TOP picture shows six of seven persons isolated for more than 30 days at a tiny mining camp at the head of Muchalat Arm before their rescue by the Victoria tug Island Commander, skippered by Capt. Arthur Warren. From left to right are H. K. Anderson and three-year-old son Jimmie; Mrs. Anderson; William Sloan, mine superintendent; Mrs. J. A. Sloan, and J. A. Sloan. Mrs. William Sloan, ill from cold and exposure, is absent from the group. Two dogs, a cat and a canary also were rescued, and one dog is shown. Second picture shows what faced Capt. Warren as he headed the rescue tug into Matchlee Bay, at the head of the arm. The ice was five inches thick. (For further pictures, see Page 3.)

BULLETINS

Sails North

VANCOUVER, Jan. 28 (CP).—The coastwise passenger-freighter Ss. Camosun tonight sailed on its third attempt to reach Stewart, B.C., the tiny snow-bound and fuel-short community at the southern tip of the Alaska Panhandle.

Nineteen feet of snow and the ice-locked Portland Canal have prevented the Union Steamships' Camosun from reaching Stewart on two previous runs.

Again Isolated

NEELIN, Man., Jan. 28 (CP).—Blowing snow tonight again isolated this Southern Manitoba town after the snow siege had been lifted temporarily Thursday night for the first time since January 11 when all roads and rail outlets were choked by high drifts. Neelin is 103 miles southwest of Winnipeg.

To Stay at Post

LONDON, Jan. 28 (Reuters).—Sir Ralph Stevenson, British Ambassador to China, will remain in Nanking if the Chinese Government withdraws to South China, a Foreign Office spokesman said today.

New Tax Setup Sought by Drew

OTTAWA, Jan. 28 (CP).—A top-to-bottom overhaul of Canada's tax structure was demanded tonight by George Drew as he made his first major speech in the Commons as Progressive Conservative leader.

He called for a revised tax set-up during a long castigation of the Government for its taxation policy and its attitude towards the provinces, which he capped with a motion of non-confidence in the Administration.

The motion will be voted on at the end of the debate on the Throne Speech.

SEES THREAT

Mr. Drew said Canada's constitution is threatened by Federal attempts to deny the provinces their independent taxing powers, and he declared:

"A position has been reached where it is absolutely essential that the whole problem of taxation by all governments—Dominion, Provincial and Municipal—be carefully examined so that the most efficient system possible may be devised."

Mr. Drew berated the Government on its Dominion-Provincial policies, accusing it of blocking renewal of the Dominion-Provincial Conference and attempting to "centralize" traditional powers of the provinces.

He struck out briefly, too, at the Government's two new Royal Commissions, at high taxation and at what he described as lack of positive statements in the Throne Speech on national health, social security and housing.

IMPORTANT OMISSION

He observed that the Speech from the Throne had a "very important omission" in that it had no reference to further meetings between the Federal and Provincial Governments to work out ways in which they could co-operate

"Our constitution is threatened," he added, "by carefully-planned efforts to deny the provinces the opportunity to carry on their affairs freely by the use of their independent taxing sources."

He said it was "necessary to return to the true principles of the Federal system."

Mr. Drew said the only barrier to agreement at the 1945 Dominion-Provincial Conference was the desire of the Dominion Government to obtain centralized taxing power and make the provinces dependent on the Federal treasury.

WILL BE GLAD

The day would come when the people of Canada would be glad that there had been two provinces which could hold out and prevent the centralization of complete taxing power in the hands of those at Ottawa.

He said there should be some simple device for continuing co-operation among the provinces. Perhaps this could be done through a continuing secretariat in which provincial representatives could get together periodically.

Mr. Drew said the Royal Commission on transportation, established late last year, was "being used to divert public attention from the fact that the Government has failed to deal with freight rates, which it could have done with the information already at hand."

Calculated to arouse criticism of all Royal Commissions, he said, was the one forecast in the Speech from the Throne, to investigate radio, television and a variety of other subjects.

Series Describes Uphill Fight Against Foes of Democracy

WHEN the United States House Committee on Un-American Activities rolled into action, it found the path ahead to be anything but clear. Obstacles appeared at every turn—obstacles ranging from outright attempts at framing to well-meant "suggestions" from the highest official sources.

Robert E. Stripling, who retired recently after ten years as chief investigator for the committee, tells of the group's difficulties—and successes—in a series of articles entitled "The Communist Conspiracy in the United States."

Because of the close relations between the United States and Canada; because of abundant proof that "it can happen here;" because of a belief that real Canadians, like real Americans, are true to our democratic way of life, The Daily Colonist brings to its readers this important series of articles.

First of the series will appear in Sunday's edition.

Mrs. Sam Carr In Detention

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (CP).—Mrs. Sam Carr was arrested today on a deportation warrant and sent to Ellis Island for detention with her husband.

Mrs. Carr was turned over to immigration authorities this afternoon, said Edward Scheidt, chief agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation here.

Letter by Putnam Assails Margarine

Pledge to Back Dairy Act Breaks Government Silence

Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam is fighting the legalization of margarine sales in British Columbia, according to a letter turned over to The Colonist yesterday.

The letter broke a period of Government silence that has shrouded the margarine issue since it was learned that the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada declaring a Federal prohibition of margarine sales illegal would not apply in British Columbia, where sales are still prohibited by the British Columbia Dairy Industry Act.

The question of whether or not sales will be permitted in British Columbia will be decided at the next session of the Legislative Assembly which opens February 8.

"I DO NOT AGREE"

Addressed to Major H. O. Forster, general manager of Canadian Dairy Products, Limited, Victoria, the letter said:

"Dear Sir:

"This will acknowledge your letter of January 22nd asking me to urge the immediate amendment of the B.C. Dairy Act to allow immediate sale of margarine in this province.

"I regret very much that I do not agree with your ideas in respect to the sale of margarine in British Columbia and am doing everything I can to have the Act enforced.

"I would think that you would be the last one, as manager of the Rapid Churn Manufacturing Company, to advocate a substitute which will only lead to the deception and confusion of the public, and will be one of the most serious blows which the small mixed farmer has had for many years.

"Yours truly, Frank Putnam, Minister."

DEPLORED PLANS

The letter to which the minister was replying called a statement of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association that milk prices would rise after introduction of margarine "a masterpiece of misrepresentation."

It went on to deplore plans to export milk to United States areas, where higher prices prevail, "as an iniquitous deprivation of nourishment to the children of British Columbia."

RAPID CHURN

Major Forster had written that his company planned to market a recently-invented rapid churn which would enable the family farmer to profit from every drop of milk he produces.

He said the farmer, using the churn, would be able to produce a best grade of butter as well as second and third grades that would contain an admixture of other farm products.

These lower grades, he said, would enable farmers to produce butter that would compete with margarine at its own price level.

Letters Threaten Jurist

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP).—The conspiracy trial of 11 top United States Communists was jolted today by the disclosure hat the presiding jurist, the defendants and their lawyers have received threatening letters.

The disclosure first was made by Federal Judge Harold R. Medina.

Addressing the court, Medina announced he had received threatening "communications" at his home and added:

"I don't think I am in any danger, but if I'm wrong, I'll face the risk calmly."

No sooner did he finish than Harry Sacher, one of the battery of defence lawyers, got to his feet and announced that he too—along with the defendants, all members of the American Communist party's national committee, and the other defence lawyers—had been threatened by mail.

Ice, Snow Must Go ---Or Else

Persons who have not cleared all snow and ice from the sidewalks in front of their homes or places of business within the next 24 hours will be prosecuted, Chief John A McLellan said last night.

Chief McLellan said icy sidewalks are a serious menace to pedestrians, and in the past have been the cause of very serious accidents.

"Some persons have co-operated well, but others have been remiss in their duty. These persons will be brought into court if they refuse to obey the law," stated Chief McLellan.

The chief said a section of the Streets Traffic and Regulation Bylaw rules that "every occupant, and in the case where there is no occupant, every owner or lessee of every building or land abutting on any sidewalk shall remove and keep clear at all times all snow, ice and dirt from the sidewalk which fronts upon such building or land . . ."

Reinstatement Of Indonesia Asked by U.N.

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 28 (CP)—The U.N. Security Council called on The Netherlands today to reinstate the Indonesian Republican Government immediately.

This was part of a resolution sponsored by the United States and three other countries. It called for an immediate cessation of hostilities in Indonesia and the release of all republican leaders arrested by the Dutch since December 17.

The council rejected a Russian amendment calling on the Dutch to withdraw their troops at once from republican territory.

$50,000 Training Track Planned in Sidney Area

Construction of a $50,000 training track and breeding farm for thoroughbred horses on 85 acres on the East Saanich Road near Sidney will start next month.

Dr. K. R. Darbyshire, president of the British Columbia Division of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, said last night the layout will be built by the same racing interests who controlled the Colwood and Willows racing

The property, 20 miles from Victoria, is part of Glamorgan Farms and is bounded by East Saanich and Glamorgan Roads on two sides. The deal for the purchase of the property was completed this week.

A five-eighths-of-a-mile track, the same length as the Willows oval, will be constructed, a fact which already has led to great speculation as to whether the layout will eventually become a full fledged race track.

"NO RACE TRACK"

Dr. Darbyshire, however, emphatically denied that the layout will become a race track to replace the Willows.

"The layout will be used to encourage the development of thoroughbred horses. There is no truth in reports that there will be racing on this location," stated Dr. Darbyshire, who was speaking for the interests purchasing the land.

The well-known Victoria horseman said officials hope to have the project completed by Autumn of this year.

It is hoped, he said, to make arrangements with Oak Bay Council to allow training of 75 to 100 horses at the Willows this Spring. He said there are 100 stalls, remaining at the Willows.

Plans for the track and barns on the new site already are being drawn up, according to Dr. Darbyshire, who said the land is ideally suited for the purpose for which it will be used, and is extremely well drained.

CONDITIONS PERFECT

"It is my contention that if a British Columbia horse is to win the King's Plate in Ontario, he will have to be trained on Vancouver Island where conditions are perfect. I predict that some high-grade horses will be produced," he said.

He estimated that the new layout will have enough barns to accommodate 400 animals.

Dr. Darbyshire stated that the horse breeding and training industry on Vancouver Island would have been wiped out if the new project had not come into being. He said the 40 to 50 Island horsemen would have had to sell out or move to the Mainland.

Rumors that the Willows' grandstand is being dismantled and taken out to the Sidney site also were quashed by Dr. Darbyshire. He said the building had been sold to the same concern which purchased other Willows' buildings. Certain material, however, will be taken from the Willows for use on the new site, he explained.

SLIM POSSIBILITY

Observers believe that there is little possibility that the new site will ever become a race track because of its great distance from Victoria. Fast transportation between Vancouver and Sidney, and Victoria and Sidney, however, might change the picture.

This was thought to be a slim possibility, and local racing enthusiasts hope for the day when the Dominion Government will release the old Colwood site, which it has been stated could be put into shape for $250,000. An entirely new layout would cost about $450,000, observers say.

Exhibition authorities have denied that they are connected in any way with the interests who have purchased the new site. Fairs, the same as race tracks, must be close to cities, they stated.

Number of Canadians Needing Help Unknown

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—Major-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., was told in the House of Commons today there was no indication of the number of Canadian citizens in China who may need to be evacuated.

The member for Nanaimo raised the question on an earlier statement by National Defence Minister Brooke Claxton that H.M.C.S. Crescent was proceeding to Far Eastern waters.

"I cannot give any number because there has been no indication from the Canadians there," Mr. Claxton stated. "The maximum number of Canadians in China is about 800, but they are not all in the area concerned. A considerable number of those in the area affected have indicated their desire to stay. It is, therefore, not possible to give any numbers."

The Nanaimo member asked if there were any reasons why the Crescent had proceeded to Far Eastern waters or was proceeding to Far Eastern waters.

"The ship is going on a cruise to the Far East, and if there should be a need of coming to the assistance of any Canadians, it will be available to give that assistance," the minister replied. (See additional details in marine column.)

Vote Quashes Drew Move; Debate to Be Suspended

OTTAWA, Jan. 28 (CP).—The Progressive Conservative Opposition threw a flurry of verbal haymakers at the Government today, carried the fight by forcing a Commons division and then found itself floored under a spanking vote of 141 to 56.

It was the second round in a procedural battle between George Drew, the new Progressive Conservative leader, and Prime Minister St. Laurent, the new chieftain in the Liberal party ranks.

WITHDREW MOTION

The fight, which had its beginnings Wednesday when Mr. Drew forced Mr. St. Laurent to withdraw a procedural motion, flared anew when the Prime Minister again sought approval for the Government's plans for handling the business of the House.

Mr. Drew took prompt exception when Mr. St. Laurent moved a motion to suspend the Throne Speech debate, traditional first business of the session, next Friday and then turn the House to consideration of the Newfoundland legislation.

The Progressive Conservative leader objected that the Government was perpetuating a wartime habit of declaring emergencies. He urged that the Government wait and see how the Throne Speech debate developed during the next week.

CITES EMERGENCY

Mr St. Laurent said there was an element of urgency. The United Kingdom Government wanted three weeks' leeway for the legislative action which it must take if Newfoundland is to enter the Canadian Confederation on the target date of March 31.

John Diefenbaker (P.C., Lake Centre) and other ranking Progressive Conservatives challenged Mr St. Laurent and his new Government—he took over from Rt Hon William Lyon Mackenzie King in November—to hasten the want-of-confidence motion which comes with the Throne Speech debate and prove that they had the confidence of the people.

When the procedural motion was put after two hours of debate, Mr Drew forced a recorded vote and saw his thrust blunted when the CCF and Social Credit parties sided with the Government.

Drew Claims Money Used To Affect Vote

OTTAWA, Jan. 28 (CP).—A noisy scene developed in the Commons tonight when George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, read statements which, he said, showed that the Government was using public money in an attempt to influence voters.

Mr. Drew said Reconstruction Minister Winters had recently made what was probably the frankest statement any minister had made since Confederation.

FINANCIAL BENEFITS

Mr. Drew said that Mr. Winters, in a statement to the press earlier this week, had stated that more had been done in the Federal by-election in the Nova Scotia constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings "by way of direct financial beneficience than probably any other constituency in Canada, and you know what happened."

"This admission, over-frank or naive, can't be passed over too lightly. It is an admission that the Government is using public money with the hope that it will affect votes where it is spent," said Mr. Drew.

GOVERNMENT AID

But Mr. Winters' statement was surpassed by one made by Finance Minister Abbott. Mr. Drew read from The Halifax Herald of January 6 a dispatch in which Mr. Abbott was quoted as thanking the apple growers of Digby-Annapolis-Kings for a resolution expressing appreciation of assistance from the Government.

Mr. Abbott had added, however, that he wished the appreciation had taken the form of a larger vote for the Government in the by-election.

"Is frankness so rare in Ontario?" interjected James Sinclair, Parliamentary assistant to Mr. Abbott, who was not in the Chamber.

"Frankness surprises your leader," he said to the Progressive Conservative members, "but it does not surprise us."

The laughter and noise which greeted the statement was so deafening that Mr. Drew was unable to continue and the Speaker had to call for order.

Plan Railroad For Alaska

SEATTLE, Jan 28 (AP).—The Seattle Chamber of Commerce named a 16-man "railroad to Alaska" committee today.

President Nat S. Rogers said a bill is expected to be introduced soon in Congress, seeking appropriations for construction of a road.

U.S. Vessel To Be Freed

OTTAWA, Jan. 28 (CP).—The Federal Government is releasing the United States' fishing vessel, Araho, seized January 24 for illegal fishing off Nova Scotia, Justice Minister Garson announced tonight.

Mr Garson said he was ordering immediate steps for the release of the ship, seized by a Canadian Fisheries patrol vessel for a technical violation of Canadian law.

Justice Department action was taken after Fisheries Minister Mayhew had announced earlier he would be agreeable to this course, despite the fact the Araho was taken within the three-mile territorial limit.

Mr. Mayhew, Minister of Fisheries, said it had been established that the Araho's infraction of the Customs and Fisheries Protection Act had been unintentional, due to a faulty direction-finder.

To Suggest Prize Money Go to Benevolent Funds

OTTAWA, Jan. 28 (CP).—The Government will put before Parliament a proposal that prize money from the World War be placed in the Canadian Naval Service and R.C.A.F. Benevolent Funds, the Navy announced today.

Distribution of prize money is based on an agreement among Commonwealth nations. The proceeds of all prizes taken during the war would be put in a common pool and allocated to the nations on a basis of comparative military strengths.

The total amount available to Canada has not yet been determined. The Navy's share will be two-thirds of the allocation and the remaining one-third will go to the R.C.A.F.

St. Laurent Says P.C.'s Split on Defence Policy

OTTAWA, Jan. 28 (CP).—Prime Minister St. Laurent, joining in the Throne Speech debate in the Commons tonight taxed the Progressive Conservative Party with lack of unity in its policy on defence.

Mr. St. Laurent said there appeared to be a split in the views of Progressive Conservative Party members on the question of defence.

He read newspaper reports quoting Ivan Sabourin, Quebec chairman of that party, as saying Canada might well remain neutral in the event of a war between Russia and the United States.

He also read an excerpt from the new Progressive Conservative platform declaring Canada should "give its strongest support to the concept of the establishment of a Western defensive union of nations."

SEEK ATTITUDE

"We are concerned to know what is the real attitude of the Progressive Conservative Party," he said.

He said the people of Canada do want peace, and because of that wish, Parliament approved the charter of the United Nations.

He said that unless and until those who signed the United Nations Charter were prepared to live up to their obligations the nations would have to be satisfied with something less. There were a number of nations, including Canada and the United States, which were willing to sign a regional pact to uphold the rule of law.

He said the nations of Western Europe were afraid of aggression by Russia, their ally during the World War.

FEAR RED IDEOLOGY

"We fear," he added, "that they might attempt to impose their ideology on the rest of the world."

But the Western nations believed that the Soviets were realists who would not start a war if they were not confident that they could win it.

The Western Powers had the men, the know-how, the material and the courage to make it "very doubtful" that Russia could win a war if she started one.

Turning to domestic affairs, Mr. St. Laurent said the situation was a cause for satisfaction. The gross national product last year was $15,500,000,000 compared with $5,000,000,000 or $6,000,000,000 in pre-war years. The estimate for 1949 was $16,550,000,000.

FEELS JUSTIFIED

He felt there was justification for the statement that social justice is an effective influence against subversive elements.

He noted that some had suggested the Government's plan to abolish appeals to the Privy Council might constitute a threat to provincial autonomy.

He said he had had a check made of appeals to the Council over the last 11 years. In that period, there had been 55 cases, of which one was disallowed, five were allowed and 49 were dismissed. In none of the five appeals allowed was there any Dominion-provincial constitutional question involved.

FEW CONTROLS LEFT

Discussing controls, Mr. St. Laurent said that since the war the Federal Government had been trying to get away from them. There were only a few left.

One of these was on steel. Canada did not need a war emergency to justify controls on steel if it was short.

Mr. St. Laurent added it was his view that anything necessary for the exercise of Federal jurisdiction could be done by Federal authority.

Nine Children, One Adult Die As Home in Mining Town Burns

NEW WATERFORD, N.S., Jan. 28 (CP).—Nine children and an adult died today in a fire that flashed through a wooden double house.

The children ranged in age from three months to 17 years.

William McKeigan saved his wife, two of his children and two of his neighbor's. His heroic attempts to rescue the others failed.

Six persons in the house escaped but a two-year-old girl was in hospital in critical condition.

The McKeigan children who died were: Barbara Ann, three months, Agatha, four years; Florence, five, Albert, nine, Russell, ten; Earl, 13; Greta, 15, and Ella, 17.

Edward Wiseman and his daughter Mary, seven, also perished. Two of his sons, Cyril, nine, and Benny, seven, escaped.

Two-year-old Rose McKeigan was admitted to hospital after she and her brother John were carried to safety by their father. Mr. McKeigan also guided his wife from the flaming building.

How the fire started was not known. No inquest will be held.

The fire broke out about 5.10 while Mrs. McKeigan was preparing breakfast and her husband made ready to leave for work in the pits. In a matter of minutes the two-story dwelling was enveloped in flames.

Speaker's Wife Dies in Ottawa

OTTAWA, Jan. 28 (CP). — Mrs. James H. King, wife of the Speaker of the Senate, died in hospital early today.

Mrs. King was the former Nellie Sadler of Maple View, N.B.

It was learned that Mrs. King was taken to hospital Wednesday, a few hours after she and Senator King entertained following the opening of Parliament at a reception for nearly 1,000 Government officials, Members of Parliament and diplomats.

A funeral service will be held at First Baptist Church here, Monday afternoon, after which the remains, accompanied by Senator King, will be taken to Vancouver. Burial will be in Vancouver the following Saturday after a service in First Baptist Church there.

ESCAPES DEATH

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Jan 28 (CP).—Sixty-year-old James Dyrne of nearby Port Moody is in "fair" condition in hospital following a harrowing escape from burning to death. While tending a huge firebox at the Thruston-Flavelle plant yesterday, Dyrne slipped and fell. He dropped 12 feet down a chute into the flames. He suffered extensive burns.

Dairymen's Delegation Asks Guard Against Deception With Margarine

Legislation to prevent "fraud and deception" in the manufacture and sale of margarine was asked by a delegation representing dairymen from British Columbia's interior which interviewed the Provincial Cabinet yesterday.

Spokesmen were Samuel E. Halksworth, president of Shuswap Okanagan Dairy Industries Co-operative Association, and Everard Clarke, manager.

"We're not here to try to prevent the sale of margarine," said Mr Clarke, "we just think it should stand on its own feet."

The delegation asked:

"That any butter substitute sold in British Columbia should be a substitute and not an imitation of butter.

"NO MILK PRODUCTS"

"That legislation be passed to prevent margarine or butter substitutes usurping the merits of dairy products, that it shall not imitate butter in color or appearance.

"That margarine shall not contain any milk or milk products and must not be churned or emulsified with any milk or milk products.

"Margarine may be made from any combination of a number of fats, oils, and greases, and therefore we request that the ingredients of any brand or type of margarine be printed on the outside of the container in letters no less than one-quarter of an inch high; and that any preservative used be named as a preservative and not given by its technical name alone; that the preservative should be so named if it is in any way poisonous.

"That advertising be controlled to the extent that no farm scenes, dairy cows, or churns be shown or phrases used which imply that margarine is or contains a dairy product.

"That the use of any butter substitute be prohibited by law in any Provincial Government institution, for humanitarian reasons."

"JUST AS GOOD"

The delegation showed the Cabinet a pound of what had been advertised and purchased in Vancouver on January 25 as "margarine."

The delegation reported that the sales lady in the store had said the product "was just as good as butter and 18 cents a pound cheaper." The delegation contended that there was no way of knowing whether this statement was true because there was nothing to indicate what the product contained.

A test conducted by the Department of Agriculture showed the "margarine" was 37.8 per cent water as against a maximum of 16 per cent permitted in butter.

This meant, the delegation pointed out, that for solid material the margarine cost 88.42 cents a pound while butter cost only 65.5 cents a pound. And butter producers, the delegation said, are liable to a fine of up to $600 if their water content is above 16 per cent.

Turning to the effect introduction of margarine will have on dairy farmers, the delegation pointed out that the Federal Government had officially asked the International Food Committee for sufficient fats and oils to produce from 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 pounds of margarine. Assuming that 60,000,000 pounds of butter would be displaced, the delegation contended that this would wipe out 20,000 herds of ten cows each and would seriously affect the livelihood of 100,000 Canadians.

In order to maintain the present status of the dairy industry the delegation asked that the Federal Government be requested to remove all embargoes on the export of milk or dairy products.

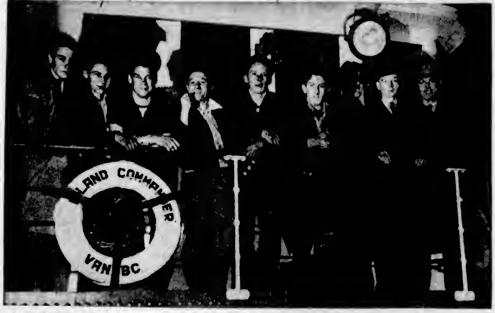
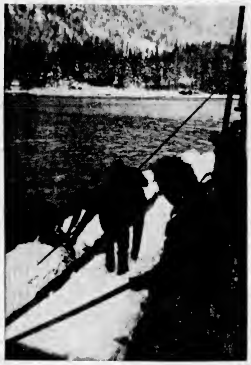
Pictures Show Tug Crew, Ice Breaking in Rescue Voyage





TUG Island Commander came home last night after battling ice five inches thick to get to Muchalat Arm, 145 miles northwest of Victoria, to rescue seven persons isolated in a mining camp since before Christmas. Top photo shows tug's crew, George Thomas, Danny Edward, Howie Nelson, Leo Hunter, Roy McGregor, Robert Cole, Chief Engineer William Forrest, Mate Robert Ryder and Capt Arthur Warren. Improvised ice cutters were made from logs fitted in cross-bow fashion on prow of tug. Photo, centre left, shows crew members bringing logs alongside tug for placement; at right, log ice-cutter smashing ice during journey north and, at lower left, two crew members watch ice breaking as the Island Commander bucked a solid field of ice.

Two Attempted Holdups Fail At Victoria Restaurant, Hotel

Two attempted holdups were reported to city police early yesterday.

Mar Chong, cook in the Lotus Cafe, 542 Fisgard Street, told city detectives that a man entered the restaurant at 5:30 a.m. and tersely ordered:

"Hand over all the bills."

When Chong didn't comply, police said the would-be bandit fled out the door. Chong told police the man didn't have a gun, but held his hand in his pocket as though holding one inside

GIVEN DESCRIPTION

Police and detectives immediately converged on the area, but failed to locate the culprit. Police have a good description.

At 6 a.m., Mrs. B. Gibson, landlady of the St. Francis Hotel, Yates Street, told police a man knocked on her door and in an intoxicated manner said

"Hand over your money."

As Mrs. Gibson stepped back into the room to call her husband, the culprit fled.

At noon yesterday police held a lineup with several suspects, but the Chinese cook couldn't locate the bandit.

Go-Ahead Signal Given By Tug Company Head

William Sloan said "he was tickled to death to see us," reported Capt Warren, and said that never again would he take his wife into such country.

Capt. Warren said he "couldn't understand why Christmas turkeys, presents and mail had been left at the small Nootka store since before Christmas without sparking an investigation.

Under normal conditions the mining camps picked up supplies and mail weekly.

PROUD OF CREW

Two fishermen, Andrew Donaldson and an unidentified man, said they had made a trip to the Natchlee Bay entrance but had returned due to ice. They had believed the group was "finished."

Capt. Warren said he was proud of his crew, who had worked tirelessly for more than 24 hours converting the tug into an ice-breaker and navigating her down the narrow channel.

He said: "Mr. Elworthy is really responsible for the whole thing as it was he who gave the go-ahead signal to start the operation."

Capt. Warren said the camp had been warned by Indian fishermen that the bay might suddenly ice up overnight and leave them isolated. One foot of snow covered the five inches of ice.

First news of the isolated camp was received Tuesday night by H. B. Elworthy, president of Island Tug & Barge Co., who said Nootka Sound fishermen reported the situation to the tug's captain.

Mr. Elworthy immediately ordered the tug to try to make contact with the mining camp.

The names of those rescued are:

Mrs. William Sloan, wife of Mine Superintendent William Sloan, also rescued, in the mission hospital at Esperanza recovering from cold and exposure.

H K. Anderson, a miner.

Mrs. H. K Anderson and three-year-old son, Jimmie

J A Sloan, a miner.

Mrs. J. A. Sloan.

It was first reported 11 persons were isolated but after the rescue it was learned four miners had been paid off and had left the camp before the freeze-up.

Walks From Court Disgruntled, But Reporter Brings Good News

"Thanks, thanks," Joseph Stephen Carlow of Victoria gulped yesterday in the Appeal Court witness room. "I thought I'd lost."

His face broke into its first smile since he had entered the court Thursday to appeal his conviction and one-year sentence for forgery.

Just after he had solemnly walked out of the Appeal Court a minute earlier, Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran had suddenly announced that he thought he had announced the Court's judgment erroneously.

"I believe I said appeal quashed and conviction allowed," Mr. Justice O'Halloran explained. "What I meant was appeal allowed and conviction quashed."

A newspaper reporter who slipped into the witness room to break the news, quickly revived Carlow from a depressed slump.

"Be sure to thank His Lordship for me," he said. "I didn't thank him because I thought I'd lost."

Carlow had been convicted December 7 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Victoria police court for obtaining $15 through forgery.

The Appeal Court ruled that since he had opened an account under the name of J. L. Ritter, and had cashed several other cheques before running out of funds, signing that name could not be called a forgery.

New Sidewalk, No-Stop Zones Recommended

Works committee will recommend to City Council on Monday construction of a concrete sidewalk on the west side of Empire Street between Haultain and Kings Road.

Cost of the work, to be undertaken as a local improvement charged against owners of abutting property, will be $1,066.75. The recommendation results from a petition of property owners.

Works committee will further recommend that no-stopping areas between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. daily except Sunday, be established on the south side of Fort Street from Government to Douglas Streets, except in areas included in bus stops, on the east and west sides of Broad Street between Fort and Broughton Streets; on east and west sides of Broad Street between Fort and View Streets.

The committee will recommend that the pedestrian crossing from the southwest corner of Broad and Fort Streets to the northeast corner be eliminated and a new crossing established from the east side of Broad Street, south of Fort Street and northerly across Fort Street.

STAGE RESCUE

Two-year-old Johnny Barringer, 1416 Fort Street, had the thrill of his life yesterday afternoon.

Johnny, son of Mr. and Mrs. R Barringer, took it upon himself to play in the bathroom of the large rooming house. Then he turned the door lock. Much to his mother's distress the youngster proved to be less adept at unlocking the latch than he was in locking it.

His mother rushed to the grocery and pleaded with the fire department to "do something." In a matter of minutes a large truck pulled up to 1416 Fort Street, and Johnny was being lifted from the bathroom window in the arms of a city fireman.

Margarine Production Should Not Be Hamstrung

THERE is no end to the audacity of the dairy interests. Having failed signally to keep Canadian tables fully supplied with butter, even with a virtual monopoly as their handmaiden, they would hamstring with regulations and provisos the manufacture and sale of margarine. Frankly, they should be told to mind their own business and concentrate on producing butter. Perhaps had they attended to this with greater success they would not now be faced with the sale of an alternative commodity.

It is not for the dairy people to say how margarine shall be sold and how it shall be advertised, nor have they the slightest right to dictate the type of ingredients that shall go into its manufacture. If their own product is all that it is claimed to be they need not fear that it will not still be in demand. In any case the public has a right to a choice between butter and margarine, and it has indicated that it wants that alternative product.

Three-fourths of the requests made this week by dairymen to the British Columbia Cabinet should be tossed out without further ado. They represent a presumption that should not be tolerated. They also represent a last-ditch attempt to prevent margarine ever reaching the British Columbia table, for the requests are such as would make its manufacture and sale impossible. Normal control of the production and sale of margarine, or any other like butter alternative, will be necessary, but it should be predicated on a fair deal and with the declared public desire for such a commodity kept in mind. No more favors should be given to the dairy interests at the expense of the general public.

Youth Seems to Need Encouraging Example

A SPEAKER discussing youth welfare in Canada recently gave an intelligent and observant review of the present day trends among young people. To the credit side of the ledger he laid their obvious concern with the future of the world, and the degree of thought which is given by young people generally today to present-day problems of all natures. He passed lightly over the debit side, and said what is probably the last word on that subject—that youth follows the example set by its elders, and that the real need is for sound leadership.

That is an obligation which comes home to every adult citizen. Each individual can relate to his, or her own life the patent fact that all example is watched and often followed. The shiftless and loose-mouthed and the greedy have their followers in all walks of life and among all ages. Youth does first what it is taught to do. If the example is not right, long and weary are the years before self-correction can catch up with the damage that has been done. Seen so, life has its own responsibilities, and perhaps the greatest of these is to the young.

Far more effective with young people than admonition is the example which marks the way. This is the only form of leadership which will hold its following. The bizarre, the unique, the extreme may hold attention for the moment, but a steady, sane course in life is the path that will be followed through good times and bad. In this country, with its abundance of natural opportunity, it should not be difficult to set that example, and to do so for its own sake. Youth will take care of itself when its elders have realized their own responsibilities to the full. Example is leadership in action.

What Prompted the L.P.P. to Disown Sam Carr?

IT is for the courts to decide whether or not Sohmil Kogan, alias Sam Carr, has committed any offence against the laws of this country, and it is inconsistent with Canadian ideas of justice that there should be any assumption of guilt prior to trial. This makes all the more interesting the Labor Progressive Party's efforts to disown him now. Why this haste to proclaim that Carr is no longer associated with the group? Can it be that the party, and certain officials who may be implicated, are not happy over the prospect of further delving into their activities?

The Labor Progressive Party of today is successor to the Communist Party of yesterday. The dropping of the earlier name was a mere expedient, and alters little. By whatever name it chooses to call itself it is still the same party, and it is the party of which Carr was formerly national organizer. Addicted to the use of worn-out shibboleths, the L.P.P. now characterizes the Carr case as "political blackmail against peace." That sounds like an attempt to make political capital of the case itself, but the statement has a hollow ring when in the same breath the party declares that the chief figure in the case has not been a member since he fled the country.

Obviously the totally unexpected arrest of Carr has caused the L.P.P. acute embarrassment. The official statement from its national offices tends to suggest that the party is desperately anxious to divert inquiry from itself.

Letters and Excerpts

Letters to the editor on any topic of genuine public interest are welcome if they are brief, accurate and fair. No letter will be inserted, in whole or in part, except over the proper signature and address of the writer. Unsolicited correspondence cannot be returned.

ROBERT BURNS

Sir,—In Sunday's paper, the article on Burns in "Thinking Aloud" by Tom Taylor was one of the finest that I have ever read. Short, and to the point; a master of his subject.

Burns lived in a very difficult time. Religion has always been a great part of the life of Scotland. Perhaps narrow, yet, considering the results on people as a whole, there is little to say.

It is largely due to this that Burns is pictured as something of a Lothario, and very much by his own people of that time.

His so-called wrongs went to the grave with him; let us think of what he gave to the world.

Burns was a highly educated man, the son of a hard-working farmer. The spirit of independence of Scotland was in the lowliest of its sons.

Too often the "Sons of the Soil" are considered unlettered. How many of our leading Canadians are sons of the soil, sprung from the old pioneer, who trailed with horse and wagon into the woods that had never been touched by man or by a ship sailing around the Horn . . .

Today, many of the Bard's poems are but what we are endeavoring to achieve in reality.

ALEC McLEOD BAIRD.
1003 Amphion Street, Victoria, B.C.

THE LAST WORD

Sir,—Letters re conditions in Britain are getting a little tedious, but I shall be grateful if I may have space to reply to Mr. I. Meyer's letter in Sunday's Colonist.

At no time did I imply that under any other government the people could enjoy "high living." The British anticipated a time of austerity and prepared to accept it; but after nearly four years of privation they find the Socialist Government is much more interested in nationalizing industry than in making food available. No wonder there is discontent.

As one person said: "It seems that what the people need comes a long way down the list." As to being "poor spirited," I wonder how high Mr. Meyer's spirits would soar after a diet doled out in ounces, twice-brewed tea, dark coarse bread, a cold house, clothes patched or threadbare, to say nothing of the endless petty and annoying restrictions by means of which Labor lets one know who is boss?

Regarding the statement that "England's economic recovery will be complete by 1952," there is something more important than that she needs to recover, and that is her prestige. It would take a cleverer man than Mr. I. Meyers to get the disheartened people of Britain to join in his cry of "All's well!"

When Socialism gives up trying to fit the square of labor into the round of governing and gets back to its own job, we may hope for better things; for the people of Britain, as a whole, are finding out "you may silver polish a pewter cup but the cup will be pewter still."

(MRS.) L. J. HEYWOOD.
P.O. Box 495, Victoria, B.C.

HISTORICAL INTEREST

Sir,—We greatly enjoy reading the Magazine Section of The Colonist, and I have read Mr. Nesbitt's articles on the old homes of Victoria with the greatest interest.

Some few years ago, whilst walking through the Cathedral churchyard, I suggested to my wife that we read the inscriptions on the old tombstones that are at the north end. One, which greatly surprised me, read as follows: "Sacred to the memory of William Boake Naylor, who died in 1867. Age, 42 years. Born in Wakefield, Yorkshire, England. Erected by his wife, Jane Naylor."

The point of interest is that my grandfather was named William Naylor, and was born in Wakefield, Yorkshire.

Wakefield, in those early days, was quite a small village, and it is quite safe to assume that my grandfather was either a brother or cousin of the aforementioned William Boake Naylor. Further, my mother's maiden name was Jane Naylor.

Another fact which may be of interest is that I had a cousin named Percy Priestley, who left Pontefract, Yorkshire, about 65 years ago and went to Vancouver. His mother's maiden name was also Naylor.

From "The Lady of the Lake"

Soldier, rest! thy warfare o'er,
Sleep the sleep that knows not breaking:
Dream of battled fields no more,
Days of danger, nights of waking.
In our isle's enchanted hall,
Hands unseen thy couch are strewing,
Fairy strains of music fall,
Every sense in slumber dewing.
Soldier, rest! thy warfare o'er,
Dream of fighting fields no more:
Sleep the sleep that knows not breaking,
Morn of toil, nor night of waking.

New Export

By E. C. SHEPHERD
Aviation Expert, London Sunday Times

LONDON.— British and American airplane makers now are "exporting" engineers with their craft to keep them working properly and to give maintenance advice to the new owners.

This action marks the determination of the maker to protect his reputation from possible unskilled treatment of his products. A still more important reason is that the maker wants to have his own observer on the spot to report on the behavior of the aircraft.

For that reason in particular, the presence of the maker's engineer costs the buyer nothing "for a reasonable period" or "until the buyer has become fully conversant with the new equipment." How long this period of free help may be depends largely on the nature of the aircraft or engines.

An entirely new type plane usually requires a lengthy stay on the part of the maker's representative. For example, Britain's De Havilland Company has sold some 200 Dove eight-to-ten seaters in the past two years and has had its own engineers stationed with the purchasers in all five continents for periods varying from eight to 10 months.

A somewhat similar experience is reported by the Bristol Company which has sold Wayfarers or freighters in many lands. In every instance, an engineer has spent several months at the maintenance base of the operator.

EXPERT SUPERVISION

Both these firms have found, in certain instances, that the operator wished to retain the special engineer for some months after the free period of tutelage had expired. In that event, a contract arrangement is made and the specialist remains on duty until the operator is satisfied with his local maintenance service.

With military aircraft, especially now that gas turbines are coming into use, the tendency is to send the maker's engineers to give attention for long periods. The De Havilland Company has, at present, one engineer in Norway, another in Switzerland, two in Sweden, three in India, and one each in Canada, Singapore and Shanghai to watch the behavior of Vampire jet fighters and to advise and instruct on the methods of treating the Vampire.

The Gloster Company, which has sold Meteors in South America and has granted a licence for the building of Meteors in Argentina, has likewise posted its technical representatives at the points where they can be helpful. Some of these engineers live busy lives. Take for example the De Havilland representative at Singapore where a Vampire is engaged in tropical trials. He is required to follow the Vampire by air wherever it may go in Malaya or across the China Sea to Hongkong so that he can provide independent reports of anything unusual arising from tropical conditoins.

PRESERVING GOOD WILL

Careful attention of this kind is typical wherever new British aircraft are sold. It is one of the processes by which excellence is achieved but it is also the way in which customers are given satisfaction and good will is preserved. The method is still applied even with aircraft of established types. The high-speed Mosquito bombers, now in service in Sweden, Turkey and New Zealand, have their little complements of maker's engineers from Britain to solve any awkward points that may arise.

Whether the aircraft are military or civil, the maker's engineer acts as "nurse," adviser, instructor and observer. When a delivery is being made, the engineer flies out with the first of the batch and is on the spot from the start. If the aircraft are delivered by ship, he sails with the crates and superintends the assembly of the machines on arrival. At present the De Havilland Company has 21 engineers spread all over the world watching over Doves. There have been a variety of arrangements about payment after the initial spell. In some instances the operators pay the engineer's expenses while the makers continue to pay his salary. In others, the operators pay the entire cost.

Rarely do the interests of makers and operators conflict, but there have been occasions on which the pride of an air force in its maintenance system has caused the maker's representative to get the "cold shoulder." More often the operators are glad to have the maker's help.—North American Newspaper Alliance.

From Canada's Capital . . .

By TOM GREEN
(Colonist Ottawa Correspondent)

CONSIDERATION is being given by the Federal Cabinet to a prison reform measure aimed at some implementation of the several years' old report of Mr. Justice Joseph Archambeault, of the Quebec Superior Court, who visited prisons in the United States, the United Kingdom and some spots in Continental Europe in the course of his inquiry.

Since any move in this direction touches immediately on the question of Dominion-Provincial relations, it is likely the Federal Government will act with some caution.

Under consideration is an amendment to the Criminal Code to establish centralized control of prisons across Canada. Another proposed amendment, concerning the Penitentiaries Act, would shorten the minimum term for which a person may be sentenced to penitentiary, rather than a jail or some other type of penal institution.

The Government is faced with recommendations from the Prairie Provinces, for one thing, which come as a counter-proposal to offers of the Dominion to lend the provinces funds for the establishment of institutions run on the Borstal line for youthful offenders. This counter-proposal is being flatly frowned upon by the Federal authorities. The provinces, in effect, suggested that the Federal Government assume full financial responsibility for implementation of the Archambeault report. They are hopeful the Federal Government will change its mind and become more receptive to their counter-proposal.

There is pretty general agreement on the principles laid down in the report for segregation of prisoners; but both sides may continue to move cautiously on the question of allocation of costs between the Dominion and the provinces.

The probability is that during the present session of Parliament, members will have an opportunity to discuss television, or rather lack of this medium in Canada. The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is asking the Government for a loan to launch development plans.

The loan would have to be approved by Parliament. If the Government turns down the C.B.C. proposal a parliamentary or committee debate on television may develop anyway when the radio committee of the House of Commons is set up. There was no meeting last session of the radio committee. However, Progressive Conservatives indicate they will demand sittings of the committee be held early this session.

Television in the United States is reported as not being on a profitable basis yet, and in some quarters the claim is that for many years to come television may have to lean heavily on radio for support. The proposal here is to develop the new radio medium on a co-operative basis. Broadcasters and manufacturers have been sounded out on the possibility of their joining the C.B.C. in initial television projects.

• • • • •

For the full development of television in Canada, there are some problems posed. The hard facts of Canada's huge areas and meagre population are against the early and rapid growth of television, according to C.B.C. experts.

It can be assumed that Canadian television would follow the recognized pattern of starting first in the largest urban centres. It would be a longer and more costly undertaking to extend television to the rural areas and small urban centres that are some distance away from big centres of population.

Meanwhile, although Canada has been backward in the television field, there have been steps taken toward protecting her television interests. Steps have been taken in consultation with United States authorities to secure for Canada the necessary television channels in cities or towns along or near the border.

Milking Stool Reform

(From The Windsor Daily Star)

CITY slickers who edit the Wall Street Journal, of all people, undertake to discuss the milking of cows. Being well-informed on the various processes by which the public can be milked, they think they are qualified to talk about the extraction of milk from cows. But, they betray their ignorance when they suggest that milking stools be equipped with rockers, so that farmers will be more comfortable when at the job.

The Winnipeg Free Press, in much closer proximity to cows, retorts that "the man who would try to use a rocking chair to milk a cow is the sort of a greenhorn who would tie a rock to Bossy's tail to keep it from switching." Because, if the cow kicked, the rocking chair would not allow the occupant any easy evasive action.

In Ontario, with increased rural electrification, the discussion tends to become academic. Milking machines rapidly are replacing the old hand method. These machines don't need stools.

Milking stools, in the old days, had their own peculiar form of architecture. Some farmers favored a three-legged stool, with a slit in the top where one could put his hand to carry the contrivance from one cow to another. But many used a solid block of cedar, with a strap attached to the side for carrying purposes. It was relatively light, and quite substantial. It could withstand quite a few hefty kicks from a cantankerous cow without falling apart.

Most stools weren't too comfortable, but this had its advantages. Otherwise the hired man might be inclined to poke on the job, leaving it to the farmer himself to milk most of the cows. An uncomfortable stool made a man hurry to get through and stretch his back before starting an another cow.

They were handy to have around the barn. If a neighbor dropped over for a chat, you could set him on a milk stool, take one yourself, pull out a pipe and enjoy talking about crop prospects—especially if the prospects were good.

Milking stools, however, are going the way of the old democrat, the spinning wheel, and the bootjack. Soon they will become mere museum pieces, a victim of progress.

Observation Car: By G. B.

THE Magazine of Wall Street contained the following business outlook: "It has become quite clear that a gradual change in the business situation has been taking place. The postwar boom apparently has passed its peak and is growing thin in spots. The readjustments now occurring in many industries, plus the soft spots in the price structure, emphasize this development, and more such evidence is likely to accrue in the months to come. The business situation today is a mixture of conflicting influences, though most current evidence, including the price trend, indicates that inflationary forces have weakened. In trade and industry, there is the tendency to reduce inventories and shorten commitments. Consumers, less ready or less able to buy at today's high prices, wait for lower prices. On the basis of existing facts and trends, and those in the making, it can be concluded that business in 1949 will remain good, though not quite as good as in 1948. We face the prospect of a somewhat lower production level, a moderate tapering off in national income, and some unemployment. There will be a modest easing in living costs. Labor will find increases much harder to obtain." . . . The city of Halifax issues tax certificates in order to help citizens pay their taxes. A $100 certificate purchased for $99.20 on or before January 5 will produce $102.56 toward taxes on May 1. . . . It is generally a man with a small mind who has a big head. . . . Many a man who professes to have an open mind would be better liked if he kept a closed mouth. . . . George Lawton wrote: "Our life is not a book, with old age the last chapter. Rather it is a series of short stories, each with its own adventures and consummations. Struggle and rest are phases of our lives at every stage. One kind of struggle is always ending, perhaps, but another is beginning."

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

TOWNSPEOPLE born with what might be called a hunger for wild nature are always taken aback by the indifference of country people, especially backwoodsmen, to the wild life all around them.

Your guide in the Rockies, knows deer, moose, bears, sheep, trout as intimately and affectionately as a dog breeder knows his dog: and for the same reason; they are his livelihood. But as for the birds, plants filling the world around him with mystery and charm, he has either complete indifference or else a smattering of folklore about them.

The Quebec squatter at whose cabin you live while trout fishing apparently has the notion that the good God, in His spare time, amuses Himself by fabricating, with His fingers, as idly as a lady knits, little bright birds which He tosses loose. . . . That there are ancient, immutable species of all wild things seems never to have occurred to him. "What do you call that bird," you ask, indicating a Blackburnian warbler. "Oh, it is just a little bird," says your host, lightly, regarding it with interest as if for the first time in his life.

However, country people and especially backwoodsmen are doubtless as appelled by the indifferences of city folk to the marvels and mysteries that surround them. If their host in town is a big executive, he knows all about the population figures, tax rate and business turnover, in millions, of the chief industries of the city. That is natural: for it is his livelihood. But as for the real marvels . . . "How deep down are the drains?" asks the backwoodsman, in astonishment, watching the Winter slush vanishing down a sewer. "Are the gas mains deeper than the sewers? Are they ten feet down? Twenty? How are they kept apart? What are they made of? When were they put down there? How long are they going to last . . .?"

Or, looking at some very noble and distinguished passerby: "Who is that?"

"I don't know," says the city man, lightly. "Oh, just somebody . . ."

Frost is frozen vapor, on the ground. Snowflakes are formed from water vapor which cools and condenses directly into crystals high in the sky before going through the liquid stage of water. Hail is frozen raindrops which might grow larger and larger by being swept upward repeatedly and receiving successive coats of rain, which freezes. Ice, of course, is the frozen solid form of water.

Harbor Body Barrier Seen in Imperial Order

Marine News

The harbor committee was advised by City Solicitor A. J. Patton yesterday to "stop, look and listen" before going into deep water with plans to have Victoria and Esquimalt harbors brought under control of a harbor commission.

In a letter to the committee, Mr Patton advised that an Imperial Government order proclaimed January 18, 1860, made both Victoria and Esquimalt free ports of entry and clearance for ships and goods. The order never has been repealed, he stated

A meeting of the committee yesterday decided the letter should be passed on to City Council for its information

Mr. Patton made his discovery after Alderman C P Banfield had given him a copy of a proposed act for incorporation of a Greater Victoria Harbor Commission.

MADE FREE PORTS

"Due regard should be given to this matter and the act brought into line with the circumstances surrounding the true state of affairs," stated Mr. Patton in his letter to the committee.

Mr Patton disclosed the proclamation which made both Victoria and Esquimalt harbors free ports of entry was issued by Sir James Douglas, then Governor of the Crown Colony of Vancouver Island, on orders from the Imperial Secretary of State in London.

"A search does not disclose that this situation was ever repealed or altered, or was ever otherwise determined by proper authority," stated Mr Patton "Such authority must be the Imperial Government as Canadian authority has no jurisdiction in the premises"

SEE FEE CONFLICT

He said extensive searches had been made in London and Washington which did not show any change to the 1860 order Any harbor fees levied since the order was proclaimed were without authorization, he suggested.

"A most difficult situation might result if the Dominion Government passed an act allowing formation of a harbor commission here as the old order would override it," said Mr Patton.

A harbor commission would have to collect fees in order to operate efficiently The Imperial order in council of 1860 could prohibit the charging of fees if further study reveals Victoria and Esquimalt are free ports

Sailing Orders Changed

The destroyer H.M.C.S. Crescent was detached from a three-month Spring training cruise that started from Esquimalt naval base yesterday morning, and "within a few days" will leave for the Far East "for use in the event of an emergency."

Defence Minister Claxton, making the last-minute surprise announcement from Ottawa, indicated the warship may be used in the evacuation of Canadian citizens from Communist-threatened areas of China. No definite destination point was mentioned.

The Crescent was one of four Esquimalt-based naval ships scheduled to leave the local naval base yesterday morning on a lengthy cruise to Southern waters. Those which did leave were the cruiser Ontario, the destroyer Athabaskan and the frigate Antigonish

NEW ORDERS

Within a matter of minutes before the scheduled departure time for the Crescent local naval officials issued an official release which read·

"The sailing of H.M.C.S. Crescent on the Spring training cruise has been temporarily delayed . . . it is expected Crescent will depart from the Esquimalt Naval Base at a later date."

Crescent is commanded by Lieut.-Cmdr D. G. Groos

Small clusters of relatives and friends of ships' personnel gathered on docks and jetties from which the three warships departed by or before 11 a.m.

Led by the cruiser Ontario, senior warship of the Pacific Coast R.C.N Fleet, the ships nosed their way out of ice and snow-surrounded Esquimalt Harbor on the first lap of a journey that will take them to, and through, the Panama Canal, to waters off Trinidad and the West Indies area

JOIN BRITISH, U.S.

Exercises of practically every nature pertaining to naval warfare will be carried out. The ships, at various stages of the three-month program, will join with both United States and units of the R.C.N from Halifax. With them, for a time, will be Canada's aircraft carrier Magnificent.

Local ships will return to this base or on about April 24.

Ontario is under the command of Capt. J. C. Hibbard, D.S.C and Bar, R.C.N., senior officer of the Pacific Coast Squadron Cmdr. M. A Medland R.C.N., commands the Athabaskan, and is in command of the Second Canadian Destroyer Division. The frigate Antigonish is under the command of Lieut.-Cmdr. W S T McCully, R.C.N

DEEP SNOW BLANKETS CANADIAN HIGHWAY

TOP photograph shows nearly foot of snow covering small farm at Coombs, between Cameron Lake and Parksville, on Canadian Highway to Alberni Valley. Route is also known as Alberni Road. Lofty Mount Arrowsmith with cap of ice and snow is in background. Middle view is of snow on same highway near Coombs. Both were taken by R. Oliver L'Ami of Port Alberni. Bottom photograph taken by Mrs. H. P. Butler shows old cedar stump capped with snow at Errington, on side road off Canadian Highway.

Valley Groups Request Route

CUMBERLAND, Jan. 28.—Petitions of Beaver Creek and Alberni groups for a road linking Cumberland and Alberni Valley are in circulation here. They were received by the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, which delegated Robert Aitken and W. S. Dauncey to obtain the signatures of citizens who might be interested.

The Chamber of Commerce decided it would not endorse the proposed road, due to the fact that it had already gone on record as supporting the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island joint road program, of which the Cumberland-Alberni link is a part.

Members felt the associated group was doing a good job on its road program, and decided against pushing any one part of it.

Clifford Gardner, secretary, reported that the Crippled Children's Hospital at Vancouver had forwarded six "March of Dimes" cans, together with a request that they be placed in local business places.

Former Miner City Pioneer

LADYSMITH, Jan. 28.—Joseph De Frane, 48, who passed away at Alberni last Thursday, is well known in the City of Ladysmith. Word of his death was received by his brother, Isadore.

Mr. De Frane moved with his parents from Extension to Ladysmith in 1901, when the city was being established. He was known to his many friends by the nickname of "Boots," and played centre half for the Ladysmith junior soccer team. He worked in the coal mines at Extension before moving to Alberni 23 years ago.

Funeral services will be held in the Alberni United Church at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, with Rev. J. O. Bompas officiating.

New Diesel Horns Cause of Concern

NANAIMO, Jan. 28.—Members of the Nanaimo Board of Trade discussed whistles on the new Diesel locomotives, expected to be placed on the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway.

John Cook opened the discussion. He said that according to a newspaper report, there would be number of Diesel locomotives on the island, and he considered in view of what was regarded as a bad railway crossing on the outskirts of Nanaimo, that the whistles should be investigated. He noted there would be an increase in road traffic. Mr. Cook heard the first Diesel engine whistle here. He thought it like a "boat" whistle. Other speakers thought the whistles were all standardized like those in United States and elsewhere.

CROSSING DANGEROUS

The discussion got on to signals for railway crossings. One speaker referred to Craig's Crossing in Nanoose district. He considered strangers often did not know the crossing was there until they had reached it.

Dean Findlayson reported on an executive meeting of the Vancouver Island Tourist Association, held at Nanaimo last week.

A proposal to be passed on from that meeting is to the effect that all boards of trade on the Island should be asked to have representation on the Tourist Association's executive committee, and that a full-time man with headquarters at the Nanaimo Bureau should be employed during the summer.

The tourist association executive will suggest a plan to finance the Island association this year.

SPEAKS ON MILLS

Frank Wilfert gave an address on the small mills and operations in relation to United Kingdom business. He said during the war, the United Kingdom market took anything that came out of a log, and had ships moving it fast under a pool system that no longer existed. Orders today called for specified kinds of wood products. Smaller mills were unable to produce some of them because they did not have the equipment. They felt the effects of the selective market which was not as large as in wartime.

With Socialists and Communists in the Imperial Government, it was to be expected the country would place orders with Russia and countries they leaned towards, Mr. Wilfert explained.

Stanley Isaacson was welcomed as a new member of the board.

Pipe In Haggis At Big Dinner

QUALICUM BEACH, Jan. 28.—The haggis was piped in with traditional ceremony by Piper W. Bremner, Nanaimo, at the Burns Night supper held in the Community Hall. About 150 guests sat at the table, which was decorated with paper thistles. Rev. H. P. Davidson said the Selkirk grace.

J. Craig Reid, chairman, gave the address to the haggis, and the address to the "Immortal Memory" was given by J. Boyd of Campbell River. A toast to the King was given by J. C. Reid, and a toast to the ladies by James Graham, to which Mrs. J. M. Muir replied.

A program of vocal numbers and Highland dances was presented by Mrs. Douglas Smith, J. Campbell, Mrs. J. Campbell and Miss Owen Dewar. The P.-T.A. sponsored the event, and Mrs. R. S. Banks proposed a vote of thanks to the artists and all who had helped to make the dinner a success.

Club to Stage April Contest

COURTENAY, Jan. 28.—Vancouver Island open ski championship tournament will be held on the Forbidden Plateau ski fields April 10, it was announced by the Comox District Mountaineering Club. District skiers are hopeful of regaining the slalom and downhill trophies won last year by three Montreal naval cadets stationed at Royal Roads College, Victoria.

A club tournament will be held Sunday on the ski run below the Mount Becher timberline. A Kandahar race is slated for March 20.

War Veterans Hold Election

QUALICUM BEACH, Jan. 28.—At the annual meeting of Qualicum Branch of the Canadian Legion, H. C. Good was elected president, succeeding Donald Beaton. Other officers elected were: F. H. Parker, first vice-president; E. J. Lockhart, second vice-president; G. T. Pattison, J. M. Utteridge and D. E. Dobson, executive, and C. P. Bagnall, sergeant-at-arms.

Installation of officers and appointment of committees will be held on February 17 in the K. of P. Hall.

David Hillier and William Rolmes were welcomed as new members. A communication received from the D.V.A., Victoria, announced that the out-patient department there had been transferred from the Belmont Building to the Veterans' Hospital. Payment of the branch's share in the cost of reconditioning the War Memorial at Parksville was approved.

Early Morning Outbreak Burns Comox Residence

COMOX, Jan. 28.—A four-room house owned by John Myshyniuk, Comox, was destroyed by fire early Friday morning.

Mr. Myshyniuk had left the house about 4 a.m. for Nanaimo, and was not aware of his loss until his business partner, F. Boychuk, telephoned Provincial Police. Nanaimo detachment of the police force stopped Mr. Myshyniuk as he was entering the city and told him of the fire.

The fire was not noticed until it was well under way, and the Comox volunteer fire department had no chance to save the house.

Seed Industry Beyond Ebb, Expert States

The seed industry in British Columbia has passed the low ebb of 1948, according to J. L. Webster, Vancouver seed specialist in the British Columbia Department of Agriculture.

At the annual meeting of the B.C. Seed Growers' Association, Vancouver Island branch, Mr. Webster termed the seed crop for 1948 as a "disaster year."

"Low prices, poor markets, together with unusually bad weather, caused the greatly-reduced seed yield this last year," said the speaker.

He outlined the toll taken by a disease in the onion, beet and carrot seed crops. However, he stressed that a better year was in store for the seed growers in the province.

J. J. Woods, superintendent of the Saanich Experimental Station, emphasized the need for seed growers to alternate their crops every year.

At the business meeting, Frank Butler of Saanich was elected president of the Vancouver Island branch of the B.C. Seed Growers' Association, and R. M. Adamson was appointed secretary-treasurer.

Canada's first provincial legislature was formed in Nova Scotia in 1758.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours (from midnight to midnight). The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

There's Something Fishy About This

No, there aren't any fish in this picture. It's just Dr. Irwin A. Moon in a deep-sea diver's garb, climbing down a ladder into the "silent deep" to prove that the deep really is not silent at all. In his newest scientific film, "Voice of the Deep," Dr. Moon reveals that fish have a definite language of their own.

The film, produced in sound and natural color, will be shown in the Bethesda Gospel Hall on Thursday, Feb. 3, at 8 p.m.

The King's Illness Almost Doubles Duties for Philip

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Jan. 26 (CP).—Husband of tomorrow's queen, father of a future king, the young and personable Duke of Edinburgh may be the most talked-of man in Britain this year.

Now the King is unwell, his duties have almost doubled. Most of His Majesty's outdoor duties have already devolved on Prince Philip and in discharging them he has won general esteem.

The duke has been acclaimed everywhere as a worthy representative of Britain's Royal Family; yet it is less than two years since a London newspaper took a public opinion poll on his eligibility as Princess Elizabeth's husband. Thirty-two per cent of those polled decided against him.

WIDELY ACCLAIMED

In a sense, the duke was on trial during the first year of his marriage. To all ceremonies he brought the dignity that comes—even to princes born—only with years of experience.

In recent months, Philip has been widely acclaimed as a public speaker. He uses no notes, is never at a loss for a phrase, reveals considerable wit and smiles as he talks.

The duke is also becoming accepted as a leader of men's fashion styles in Britain. His choice of clothes is watched by West End tailors.

"BORN DEBUNKER"

Off-stage, he is often called a "born debunker." Once at a public function he surprised a newspaper photographer by saying "Congratulations! You are the only one who can take a photograph standing up straight."

But there is authority as well as fun in the glint of his eye, and he will be called on to exercise it further as time goes on. In the year ahead he will have little time for his former pleasures—cricket, soccer, driving and swimming—and will have to be content with his squash court, an infrequent dash across the Solent in his yacht Bluebottle, and an occasional round on the tiny golf course in the grounds of Windlesham Moor, Surrey, his country home.

KEEPS HIS HEAD

That he is able to keep his head in the midst of state obligations is suggested by the fact that he was "letting off steam" in the private squash court at Buckingham Palace at the moment young Prince Charles was born.

Barbara Ann Has Plan For Happy Married Life

By GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (CP).—Barbara Ann Scott talked today about "glamour girls" and "career women" as if unaware that she, too, is a professional now and pretty easy on the eyes.

The 20-year-old Ottawa girl was talking about marriage—and all the while emphasizing with a smile and a toss of her blonde hair that she's not thinking of settling down just yet.

But she has a formula, the Olympic and world's champion figure-skater told a press conference.

"I think if you're going to get married, you've got to have a system. If a girl gets married, she should look after her husband and her home and not go dashing around all over the place."

And how does that approach go across in show business?

"Well, the career women just glare at me when I say that."

But Miss Scott, training here for her next show starting February 4 in Chicago, said professional entertainers aren't the "hard, cold and mercenary" bunch they're represented to be.

"So far, I've found they're not that way at all—touch wood," and she rapped a nearby table for emphasis.

Miss Scott reiterated that representing Canada at the Olympics last year was the realization of her "one big ambition." One of the reasons she turned professional this year was because there wouldn't be another set of Olympic games until 1952.

"And by that time I'll be an old grandmother."

Her ambition now, she said, is to help crippled children; a big part of her earnings go to that type of charity through the St. Lawrence Foundation which handles her affairs.

Miss Scott said during the marriage discussion that learning to cook is still one of those things she hopes to get around to soon.

"Right now, all I can do is scramble eggs and bake muffins."

Social and Personal

Rangoon Police Chief Issues Fashion Decree

By DOUGLAS LACKERSTEEN

RANGOON, Jan. 28 (AP).—Present-day Miss Burma is laying heavy emphasis upon "the bosom"—and Police Chief Aung Chein doesn't like it.

Burmese wear three garments only—a longyi (sarong, to you), an aingyi (or jacket) and a bodice.

The jacket is made of flimsy material. With the passing years, it has grown steadily shorter. Today the nearly transparent garment barely covers the bosom.

New style bodices, built along brassiere lines, are cut low both in front and back. Consequently, well dressed Burmese girls today are revealing what Hollywood's Johnson office politely calls "too much cleavage."

Police Chief Aung Chein, disapproving of this departure from more modest ancient custom, issued an edict. He told bodice manufacturers to alter the lines of their garments to give more coverage.

REFRAIN—OR ELSE

"In the future," he said, "you will refrain from making women look immodest—or else . . ."

This is not the first time Burmese girls have been discouraged from adopting more modern styles.

Last year attempts at Westernizing hair styles were frowned upon by young Burmans with old-fashioned ideas. Girls with modern hair-do's were waylaid on street corners. Bangs and pompadours were cut off with expertly wielded scissors.

But the girls counted-attacked swiftly. Decoys lured "hair-snippers" down lonely streets where waiting accomplices beat them up.

The girls had a rougher time before the war when the nearly transparent jacket first was introduced. Scandalised Buddhist monks tore the offending garments off their wearers and horsewhipped the girls publicly.

Cordova Bay Unit Marks Second Year

In celebration of the second anniversary of the Cordova Bay P.-T.A. a special anniversary cake with two candles was served during the social hour following the January meeting held in the school recently. Mr. R. Sinkinson, president, cut the cake.

Mrs. George Ross announced the P.T.A. will sponsor a sale of home cooking which will take place in the school on February 3.

A ground planning committee to draw up plans for the improvement of the school playground was formed. Members nominated were Mr I. Green, Mr V. E. L. Goddard, Mr. George Ross, Mr. J E. Buchanan, Mr. K. M Sturgeon and Mr. C. Howarth.

Dr. Henrietta Anderson, who was guest speaker, spoke on the Community Centre. She commended the members for the co-operation with which they work with other organizations in Cordova Bay.

Mrs. Sedgman Heads V.O.N.

Mrs. Keith Sedgman was elected president of the Junior V.O.N. at the annual meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. Jack Child. Other officers elected were Mrs Dave Fladgate, secretary, and Mrs R Young, treasurer.

Miss Marjorie Baird, superintendent of the V.O.N. and Mrs H B Wilson, president of the board of the V.O.N., were special guests.

Mrs William Findlay, retiring president, gave the annual report, showing a very successful year.

Final plans were made for the annual dog show of the Victoria Kennel Club, to be held on February 2 under the convenership of Mrs P. Fritsch.

For Saturday, January 29, 1949

Today's Quotation: "To do each day two things one dislikes is a precept I have followed scrupulously: [illegible]y day I [illegible] got up and I have gone to bed."

W. Sommerset Maugham.

Saturday for Everyone: Afternoon and evening offer you the best times for socializing, action, purchasing, etc. However, do not be hasty at any time today.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below.

March 21 to April 19—(Aries)—Achieve fulfillment of some aspiration; strike up new friendships; move ahead on the social front.

April 20 to May 20—(Taurus)—Anticipate the coming pattern in career and vocational matters; expect [illegible] activity.

May 21 to June 20—(Gemini)—Air your opinions and evaluations, let them serve to "set the machinery in motion."

June 21 to July 23—(Cancer)—Direct your energies toward joint monetary matters; play safe to better resources.

July 23 to August 22—(Leo)—Play a support part; others are outspoken, articulate. Let another be decisive in effecting adjustments.

August 23 to September 22—(Virgo)—Improve the employment scene, touch up clothing or "pitch in" where needed.

September 23 to October 22—(Libra)—Set out to make "dreams" come true. Don't overlook pet pastimes as a source of future revenue.

October 23 to November 21—(Scorpio)—Give all due consideration to matters involving kin, your centre of operations and real estate.

November 22 to December 21—(Sagittarius)—Draw conclusions from the fuller data and evidence now in your possession; use diplomacy.

December 22 to January 19—(Capricorn)—Keep mental processes "in high" to effect gainful sales and purchases; exhibit a cordial manner

January 20 to February 18—(Aquarius)—Put a checkrein on temperamental outbursts and belligerence; achieve greater well-being

February 18 to March 20—(Pisces)—Do some "detecting" to unearth pertinent facts; follow your humane impulses today.

Planning ahead—Good for sociability, entertaining etc.: January 29; daytime of February 1, 2; afternoon of 7, 8; morning and afternoon of 8, 14; evenings of 15, 17, 20, 22 and 28.

End Bad Cough Quickly, at One-Fourth The Cost

Thousands of housewives have found that, by mixing their own cough syrup, they get a dependable, effective medicine. They use a recipe at only one-fourth the usual cost of cough medicine, but which really breaks up distressing coughs in a hurry.

From any druggist get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and fill up with granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. The syrup is easily made with 2 cups sugar and 1 cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) It's no trouble at all, and makes a splendid medicine. Keeps perfectly, tastes fine.

Its quick action in loosening the phlegm, helping to clear the air passages and soothing away irritation, has caused it to be used universally throughout Canada.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its soothing effect on throat irritations. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

City Hall Inside Staff Receives Retroactive Pay

—Colonist Photo

HAPPY smiles were order of day yesterday afternoon when 191 City Hall employees of "inside staff" received seven months' retroactive pay in lump sum added to regular monthly cheques. Increases of $17.50 per month were approved for City Hall staff by City Council early this month. According to H. O. MacKenzie, payroll clerk, employees' retroactive pay averaged $122.50. Nine months' retroactive pay went to 97 policemen in payments ranging from $70 to $100 totaled $31,068.17. Out of amount Dominion Government received 15 per cent in income taxes, or total of $4,659.00.

Wider Interest In Community Aim of Lions

Accomplishments of the past and plans for the future were discussed at a recent mid-Winter district conference of Lions Clubs held at Walla Walla, Wash.

More than 380 delegates attended the meeting from Lions Clubs throughout the district, among them being three members of the local service club organization They were Zone Chairman John Priestley, Secretary Arthur Cann, and Director Arthur Quail.

These three presented detailed reports of the Walla Walla convention yesterday before a meeting of the Lions Club at the Empress Hotel.

It had been agreed, the reports indicated, that Lions Clubs should take a more active interest in civic affairs, and "become more community-minded"

It was the sixth such parley attended by Mr. Cann. He reviewed various panel discussions held, while Mr Priestley spoke on behalf of the district's cabinet, or steering committee.

Annual convention of the district, usually held in June, will be held in Seattle this year

SMORGÄSBORD

Dining at the Smorgasbord on a Saturday night is becoming a must in this community and scores of new guests wend their way round this famous table every week-end

If you have never eaten at the Smorgasbord, then in some ways we could truthfully say, you have never eaten.

REDDY FOX BRINGS GRANNY NEWS

Now that snow covered the Green Meadows and the Green Forest, and ice had bound the Smiling Pool and the Laughing Brook, Reddy and Granny Fox were hungry most of the time It was not easy to find enough to eat these days, and so they spent nearly every minute they were awake in hunting. Sometimes they hunted together but usually one went one way and the other went the other way, so as to have a greater chance of finding something. If either found enough for two, the one finding it took it back to their home if it could be carried. If not, the other was told where to find it.

For several days they had had very little to eat, and they were so hungry that they were willing to take almost any chance to get a good meal. For two nights they had visited Farmer Brown's henhouse, hoping they would be able to find a way inside, but the biddies had been securely locked up, and try as they would they couldn't find a way in

"It's of no use," said Granny, as they started back home after the second try, "to hope to get one of those hens at night. If we are going to get any at all we will have to do it in broad daylight. It can be done, for I have done it before, but I don't like the idea. We are likely to be seen, and that means that Bowser the Hound will be set to hunting us."

"Pooh!" exclaimed Reddy. "What of it? It's easy enough to fool him"

"You think so, do you?" snapped Granny. "I never yet saw a young fox who didn't think he knew all there is to know, and you're just like the rest When you've lived as long as I have, you will have learned not to be quite so sure of your own opinions. I grant you that when there is no snow on the ground any Fox with a reasonable amount of Fox sense in his head can fool Bowser, but with snow everywhere, it is a very different matter. If Bowser takes it into his head to follow your trail these days, you will have to be smarter than I think you are to fool him. The only way you will be able to get away from him will be by going into a hole in the ground, and when you do that, you will have given away a secret that will mean we will never have any peace at all. We will never know Farmer Brown's Boy will take it into his head to smoke us out. I've seen it done No, sir, we are not going to try for one of those hens in the daytime, unless we are starving and have to.

"Pooh!" exclaimed Reddy. "What of it? It's easy enough to fool him."

"I'm starving now" whined Reddy

"No such thing!" Granny snapped. "I've been without food longer than this many a time. Have you been over to the Big River lately?"

"No," replied Reddy. "What's the use? It's frozen over. There isn't anything there"

"Perhaps not," replied Granny, "but I learned a long time ago that it is a poor plan to overlook any chance. There is a place in the Big River which never freezes because the water runs too swift to freeze, and I've found more than one meal washed ashore there. You go over there now while I see what I can find in the Green Forest. If neither of us finds anything, it will be time enough to think about Farmer Brown's hens tomorrow.

Much against his will, Reddy obeyed. "It isn't the least bit of use," he grumbled, as he trotted toward the Big River. "There won't be anything there. It's just a waste of time."

Late that afternoon he came hurrying back, and Granny knew by the way that he cocked his ears and carried his tail that he had news of some kind. "Well, what is it?" she demanded.

"I found a dead fish that had been washed ashore," replied Reddy. "It wasn't big enough for two and so I ate it."

"Anything else?" asked Granny.

"No-o," replied Reddy slowly "That is, nothing that will do us any good. Quacker, the Wild Duck, was swimming out in the open water, but though I watched and watched he never once came ashore

"Ha!" exclaimed Granny. "That is good news. I think we'll go duck hunting."

Next Story: Granny and Reddy go hunting.

Joblessness Is Stressed by Youth Seeking Reduction in Theft Terms

Five boys, none over 20, appeared in Appeal Court yesterday to ask to have their sentences for theft reduced. All blamed unemployment for driving them to the thefts they had pleaded guilty to in lower courts

Two Victoria boys, one of them 17-years-old, the other 18, won reductions from their one-year sentences after Mr. Justice C. H. O'Halloran warned them:

"We hope this leniency will do you some good"

They told the court they had left Victoria last November for a Calgary job they found already filled when they arrived there.

HUNGRY, COLD

They began hitchhiking back, they went on, and when they got to Midway, B.C., they said they were hungry and cold, and broke into the McMynn General Store and Post Office to finance the rest of their trip home.

They went on to say that they were arrested at the railway station and were convicted and sentenced in the Yale court by Magistrate L. A. Dodd.

They said they felt if there had been a provincial probation officer in the district they would have been put on probation.

In reducing their sentences, Mr Justice O'Halloran said the court was "trying to put a blind eye on your juvenile record."

The Appeal Court dismissed the appeal of a 17-year-old Vancouver boy for a reduction of his two-year sentenced for theft.

FAVORABLE REPORTS

After eyeing his long record, they said.

"You've been in Oakalla before without success. You'll have a chance to learn a trade and get steadier habits in the penitentiary."

Two 20-year-old Toronto boys who had come to the Coast for jobs in logging camps and been laid off because of snow two months later, said they had stolen a coat because they had pawned their own and were cold.

Their appeal was stood over for a week while Crown counsel was instructed to find out if the boys could get jobs. They had received favorable reports from the police magistrate and the Salvation Army.

Doctors, Two Teachers Wanted For Tiny Island in Bering Sea

SEATTLE (UP).—A doctor is wanted for the community on tiny St. George Island in the middle of Bering Sea north of the Aleutians.

The general manager of the Pribilof Islands, Edward S. Johnston, said that nobody on St. George is gravely concerned, however.

Everyone has stayed fairly healthy since Dr. William Bessonette was transferred last August. A trained nurse is on hand to do the medical chores, which include a weekly visit to every native household on the island.

"Two old-timers passed on last year, but 11 births swelled the native population to 191 as of January 1," Johnston said.

NO CRIME PROBLEM

There are no epidemics, no crime and no hint of a traffic problem except when the fur seals start swarming onto the beaches in early Summer.

In addition to a doctor, Johnston would like to add two more school teachers to the staff of St. George Public School. Four teachers now handle the 42 pupils in the "junior and senior" rooms.

Johnston is interested in a man-and-wife teaching team to live in one of the Government houses now available.

The houses come furnished. Each has a full basement, six rooms with water, electricity and heat. Rent is $21 a month.

Living conditions aren't half bad all around. Food is sold at the Government store for Seattle wholesale prices plus 10 per cent for handling. Winters are fairly mild and there's no snow to shovel. The island is so flat it all blows off.

Temperatures will average about 15 degrees above zero until late March, when the islands turn into a patchwork quilt of Spring flowers.

In the meantime, there's dancing in the schoolhouse on week-ends and an occasional inter-island basketball game.

The big event of the year just past on St. George, besides the all-important, fur seal harvest, was the opening of a post office on November 1. Mrs. Ruth L. Anderson, who doubles as one of the lower grade teachers, was installed as postmistress and deliveries are now scheduled every two weeks.

The new link with the outside world has provided faster service between Mainland mail order houses and the island.

Johnston has a boat leaving for St. George sometime in February with a load of fresh vegetables. He'd like to have a doctor and two school teachers on board, but he's not too concerned.

"Life just goes on up there," he said.

Ike Williams Upset In Savage Contest

Kid Gavilan Takes Uphill Decision—Breaks Lightweight King's Win Skein

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—Cuban Kid Gavilan, shaking off Ike Williams' right-hand bombs, upset the lightweight champion of the world tonight to win a non-title ten-round split decision at Madison Square Garden. Gavilan weighed 145¼, Williams 140½.

In the most fiercely contested fight seen in the big arena in years, Gavilan snapped the champion's 20-fight winning streak on the votes of the two judges after Referee Ruby Goldstein called it a draw.

KID GAVILAN

Judges Harold Barnes and Artie Schwartz had it for Gavilan 5-4 with one even. Referee Goldstein saw it 4-4 with two even and eight points for each. The Associated Press card found for Gavilan 5-3 and two even.

On the strength of the exciting uphill triumph, Gavilan's manager, Angel Lopez, said he will post a forfeit with the New York State Athletic Commission next week, demanding that welterweight champion Ray Robinson meet the "Cuban Keed" for the crown.

Blood dripped from cuts over the right eyes of both scrappers in the furious scrap that was fought head to head and shoulder to shoulder from the opening bell. There were no knockdowns in the savage brawl, but they fought after the gong in the first, sixth and tenth rounds.

The big crowd of 15,125 which paid $57,195 rocked and roared throughout the contest. First Williams, deadpan sharp shooter, would appear to have the kid on the way. Then Gavilan would flurry back in wild style to even matters. In the final 15 seconds Gavilan shouldered Ike to the ropes and cut loose with a continuous stream of punches that brought the crowd to its feet. That probably won the fight for him as it was touch and go all night.

Gavilan fought out of a crouch, as he did against Ray Robinson at the Yankee Stadium last Summer. That appeared to have the effect of smothering Williams' sharp, short punches. On the inside Williams had the best of it but when they moved off at long range, the flashy Cuban, leaping in with a stream of left hooks and throwing his bolo right, caught the fancy of the crowd.

Williams, fighter-of-the-year in 1948, took command in the second round after losing the first on Gavilan's crowd-pleasing flurries. At one time the Hhumba Kid, who was a 2-to-1 underdog, caught Ike in a neutral corner and landed nine straight bolo rights.

"Y," Pro Patria Head Cagers' Play-Off Card

Three play-off games will be the bill of fare offered by Victoria and District Basketball Association on its week-end card at the High School tonight.

Chinese Students and Warriors will start the show at 7 with the first game of their intermediate "B" boys total-point semi-final series.

K.V.'s and Brentwood Aces will take the floor at 8 for the second contest in a best-of-three senior "B" men's semi-final. K.V.'s took the first game of the series by a 46-42 count and can sew up the series with a victory tonight.

Feature attraction at 9 is between the league champion Y.M.C.A. outfit and Pro Patria, who ended regular league play in third position. It will be the start of a best-of-three semi-final series, with the victors meeting winners of the K.V.'s-Eagles series in the city final. Eagles took the lead in their series opener by scoring an upset win over the Orangeshirts.

No games are scheduled for Monday night as the high school gym is not available. Next Wednesday night, the Broadway Clowns will play an exhibition game against senior "A" K.V.'s. A play-off game, yet to be announced will precede the exhibition.

Low Water Level Slows Anglers At Campbell River

Fishing in the Campbell River area during the past week has been confined mostly to the salt water variety owing to the low level of water in the rivers and ice on small lakes.

Winter Springs are running in fair numbers in Discovery Passage and off Willow Point, and are taking well on plugs. Alan Maclean of Painter's Fishing Resort landed an 18.8 pounder off Frenchman's Shack, using a Martin herring scale.

Sea-run Cutthroat trout are showing well in the mouth of Campbell River but must be fished from a boat because of ice along the shoreline.

Some Steelhead are being caught in Campbell, Quinsam and Oyster Rivers but they are not yet plentiful. Weather remains cold and fishing is somewhat rugged. With milder weather and a consequent rise in the water level, better fishing can be expected. Devon minnows seem to be the most popular lure. Theo Mallinson has been quite successful on recent outings, using a minnow. His latest catch was a 1.12 specimen, taken from the Sandy Pool in Campbell River.

SPOKANE, Jan. 28 (AP).—Joe D. Brown, son of movie comedian Joe E. Brown, is interested in buying the Spokane Indians Baseball Club, co-owner John (Buddy Ryan) said today.

Ryan said Brown had called him twice in the last two weeks to inquire about possibilities of buying Spokane's entry in the Class B Western International League.

Control of the club, which lost its home field in a fire last Fall, is complicated by a dispute between the co-owners, Ryan and J. Lamar Butler. A suit to dissolve the partnership is in the courts.

Cage Students Learn Art of Deception

Combined use of eyes, hands and ball in deceiving opponent on both defence and offence was main topic of lesson in third week of Art Chapman's basketball clinic at Victoria High School gymnasium last night. Chapman is shown at left pointing out faults as Vic Samoila, centre foreground, attempts to prevent Bert Ingram (5) from getting open shot on hoop. Gordie Patterson is pictured, centre background, instructing Bill Worthy, left, and Perry Mills (7) in same manoeuvre while number of students watch.

Pre-Game Smiles Will Come Back With Them

Two Share Top As Play Opens In Final Round

Orphans and B.C. Forest Products opened the third and final round of play in the Financial Fivepin League last night by taking three games from Horseshoe News and Smith's Aces, respectively, at Gibson's Bowladrome. Other games ended in 2-1 victories for Swifts over Shamrocks, E. & N. Shops over Shawnigan Lumber and Silver Spring over Imperial Bank.

Six teams have previously qualified for the play-off, which will see the top three teams in each round competing. Horseshoe News, E. & N. Shops and Shawnigan Lumber finished in that order in the second round to qualify along with Orphans, B.C.F.P. and Silver Spring, first-round winners.

Hugh Cowan did best for Smith's Aces, rolling high single of 336 and high three of 833, but his effort was not enough as his club dropped three close ones. Perry North sparked Orphans to their sweep with a 745 total, while Stan House marked up a 743 count, including a 299 single game for Swifts. Ray Sparks, Silver Spring, had a 313 single game.

T. Ainsley, B.C.F.P., 734; H. Bryan, Silver Spring, 728; and H. Butler, Orphans, 708, were the only others to top 700.

Day Prefers Streamlined Game With Present Puck Regulations

TORONTO, Jan. 28 (CP)—While some persons scream for changes in today's streamlined hockey, Coach Hap Day of the world champion Toronto Maple Leafs is content to leave the rules as they are.

To those who argued that the red centre line has spoiled the old style of clever-passing plays Hap says that without the centre strip the game is slowed up considerably.

Once the puck is shot out of the defending zone without a centre line, Hap suggests it takes "ages" for attacking players to skate onside so the attack can be resumed.

As to suggestions that the blue lines should be scrapped, the coach whose team now holds fourth place in the National League thinks that without blue lines the necessity of skating is eliminated.

Hockey once used seven players, one more than at present but some folks would like to see the number reduced to five.

If the man eliminated was a defenceman "it means a lot more goals will be scored—a hockey fan gets the same kick out of a goal as a baseball fan does out of a home run, and when goals become too commonplace, he'll lose the thrill of seeing one scored."

"If a forward is dropped, it takes away all the tradition of the game. It would eliminate sweeping three-man offensives and the game would lose a lot of its color."

Hap can't see any solution to eliminate actions of players who hang around the goalmouth and pester netminders. Doubling the area of the goal crease wouldn't make any difference, he argues.

"A player can interfere six feet in front of the goalie and still get away with it. What's the difference of being six feet out and being right in front of the goal. If a goalkeeper hasn't seen the puck before it gets six feet away from him, he's usually beaten on the shot anyway."

Seals Get Hurler

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28 (AP).—The Pittsburgh Pirates today released 23-year-old Catcher Leroy Jarvis outright to San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League as part payment for Pitcher Bill Werle.

The deal for Werle was three players and an unannounced sum of cash. One of the players, Pitcher Steve Nagy, went previously.

Philadelphia Plans Arena To House New N.H.L. Club

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28 (AP)—Philadelphia expects to play in the National Hockey League in a few years even though the minor league club here admittedly is a losing proposition.

This was made known by General Manager Pete Tyrell, who only a few days ago said he was considering folding up his Philadelphia Rockets' franchise in the minor American Hockey League.

Tyrell had all the answers to make his assertion seem realistic and logical.

"If we give up A.H.L. hockey in Philadelphia it wouldn't be because we can't afford it or even because we're losing money," Tyrell explained. "It's because we can't develop a winning team."

"True we lost $30,000 last year and stand to lose as much, or possibly more, this season, but our other enterprises can support the team. It's the fact that we can't get material for a winning team that makes us feel we're wasting our time."

Tyrell explained that most of the teams in the A.H.L. have National Hockey League tie-ups and players are switched around to help out in tough situations.

"We have to develop 16-year-old kids on farm teams and that takes years. Anyway, when the kids are ready, the big league grabs them off and we haven't any quick replacements."

How then does Tyrell expect to ice an N.H.L. team?

"First, we plan to build a brand new arena to seat about 15,000 for hockey. We're only waiting for building material and labor costs to drop within reason."

Tyrell went on to explain that the N.H.L. desires to expand and that Philadelphia is desired as a seventh member.

"I'm sure the other N.H.L. members would be glad to help us get started with the right player talent."

Tag Team Bout Tops Mat Show

Victoria's wrestling fans, noted for liking their entertainment in large doses, can be assured of their full quota of excitement tonight, when Promoter Rocky Brooks presents another three-bout card at Bay Street Armoury starting at 8.30.

Billy Hunter and Vancouver's Cal Roberts mix it up in the opener, prior to a women's bout between Bea Gillis of Calgary and Linda Dale of Colorado.

Main event will be in the form of another crowd-pleasing "Tag Team" match. Bearded Stocky Neilson will team up with Frank Stojack for alternate attempts to pin either Whitey Wahlberg or Rene LaBelle of the opposing team.

Metz Grabs Lead In Phoenix Meet With 137 Score

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 28 (AP).—Dick Metz, veteran of almost 20 years links competition, grabbed the lead in the $10,000 Phoenix open today with a 36-hole score of 137.

A 68 today, coupled with an opening 69, gave him the total, five under par.

Sammy Snead, the opening-day leader, couldn't keep his putter behaving. When his game on the greens slipped, so did his lead. He went into second place when a 70 gave him a total of 138.

Dr. Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist, pulled a 68 today for a third-place 139.

The tournament favorite, Ben Hogan, finished with 140, good for a six-way tie for fourth place.

Fiery W.I.L. manager, who signed yesterday to guide Bremerton Bluejackets for the third consecutive year. Strange kept club high in pennant races during past two years, finishing third in 1947 and second last season. Bill Shepherd, owner of Jackets, also announced yesterday that club would continue working agreement with Oakland Acorns of Pacific Coast League.

Pyle Takes Early Sleep As Rockaby Persuasive

HALIFAX, Jan. 28 (CP).—Belting George (Rockaby) Ross of West Bay Road, N.S., retained his Canadian middleweight boxing crown tonight by knocking out challenger Joe Pyle of New Waterford, N.S., at 2:15 in the third round of their scheduled 12-rounder.

Ross weighed 153¾, Pyle 146.

It was Ross' 34th professional fight without a defeat. Best any boxer has done against Ross since he turned pro was Pete Zaduk's draw at Glace Bay, N.S., last Fall.

For some 4,000 fans the knockout came as a surprise and an anti-climax to what looked like a slugging match. Ross caught Pyle in close with a short, dynamite-laden right uppercut. Pyle's legs buckled and he almost took Ross with him as he hit the deck in a sitting position.

Until the third round it was even, with Ross having the edge in the first and Pyle in the second. Pyle had the champion in trouble for a moment in the second when he tagged Ross with a right and a left along the ropes.

The short-lived scrap followed a different pattern from the first meeting between the two in Glace Bay last Fall. It was Ross the boxer who gave Pyle a good boxing lesson in winning an easy decision in a 10-round non-title match.

But tonight Ross reverted to his usual slugger style and kept close to Pyle all the way.

Bruce Naylor Sparks Weakened Club To 35-23 Win Over Vancouver Squad

Special to The Colonist

VANCOUVER, Jan. 28. — Victoria High School's basketball club proved its right to be considered a definite threat for the British Columbia high school cage laurels at Kitsilano High School tonight when they defeated the home quintette handily, 35-23, despite the absence of two of their regular players. The visitors took the floor minus the services of Captain Bob Rowe and Ian Firth, but big Bruce Naylor came through with an excellent performance to show the way.

Naylor was mainly responsible for the Victoria control of the backboards and his 16 points kept Kits from getting too close. Naylor was particularly a standout in the first quarter as Vic High boomed into a 16-4 lead and then retained their 12-point lead in the close-checking affair. Don Hendry also turned in a good performance for the winners, although failing to dent the score sheet.

Both teams adopted a zone defence and this helped keep the scoring down. Kitsilano, leaders of the Intermediate High School League in Vancouver, showed to better advantage in the second half, but only managed to slice two points from their opponents' big half-time margin. The Victoria squad kept up its attack in the second ten minutes and had the game practically in the bag at the intermission, leading 22-8.

Line-ups

Victoria High School: Bamford 7, Naylor 16, Acreman, Boyd, Parker 6, Newton, Hendry, Stewart, McIntosh, Robb, Hudson 6. Total—35.

Kitsilano: Hamilton 10, Keeley 6, Mitchell 2, Thompson 4, McLeod 1, Lawson, Hemingway, Beilis, Harris, Davidson, McInnis, Heap. Total—23.

Saigh Shapes Brain Trust To Run Cards

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 28 (AP).—Fred M. Saigh, Jr., the new boss, disclosed plans today for a four-man "board of strategy" to run St. Louis Cardinals.

The brain trust will include Saigh, as president; Manager Eddie Dyer, Vice-President Bill Walsingham and Joe Mathes, director of minor league clubs.

Saigh, who acquired 90 per cent of the stock in the National League Club Thursday when he bought out his partner, Robert E. Hannegan, said he had no plans for naming a general manager—indicating that he will take care of that job personally.

"I'm taking my place out here at the ball park and I'll be on the job every day," said Saigh, a 43-year-old executive who has acquired control of multi-million-dollar business buildings in downtown St. Louis within the last three years.

"I don't want anyone to feel that I'm in this to make a profit and then get out," he said. "I have developed a deep interest in the club and intend to become an old man in the baseball business."

Hotelmen Hold Healthy Lead Despite Upset

HOW THEY STAND

	W.	L.
Gorge Hotel	32	22
Melrose Cafe	27	27
Pacific Meat	26	28
Arcades	23	31

Gorge Hotel dropped two games to Pacific Meat at the Arcade Alleys last night to lose a game off their healthy lead in the City Senior Tenpin League standings. Loss to the Hotelmen gave Melrose Cafe a chance to pick up two games, but Arcades came to life in the final game to salvage one decision. The result left Gorge Hotel five games in front with the Meatmen another game behind the Cafemen. Arcades are trailing by nine games.

Although no one succeeded in reaching 600, bowling was improved with 14 of the 20 players managing to top 500. Consistent Andy Palmer was high man with 194, 193 and 203 for a total-pin count of 590. Bill Holness was next in line was 583, including a 218 final game tab. Ron Wilson, Pacific Meat, opened up with 201 and 202 but slipped in his last ten frames for 575. Bill Norris, Melrose Cafe, had high single of 222 and a three-game total of 578.

Wednesday—D. Drummond vs. H. Bates; F. Jenkins vs. R. McKenzie.

Thursday—Colvin and F. Griffin vs. Jenkins and R. Williams; Bates and McMillan vs. Drummond and Greenslade.

Medic's Message Makes "Hot" Habitants Happier

MONTREAL, Jan. 28 (CP)—Two of Montreal Canadiens' veteran stars, long on the hockey-cripple list, received the physicians' nod today to go back into action as soon as they attain playing condition.

For Centre Elmer Lach and Defenceman Emile (Butch) Bouchard this means "shortly," said club sources. The precise date of their return has been left to Coach Dick Irvin.

When the doctors' pronouncement was made known a whoop of excitement ran through the club from executives to players. Currently Canadiens are about the hottest club in the National Hockey League circuit.

Plagued with injuries to other players, in addition to the loss of Lach and Bouchard, Canadiens climbed in six weeks from fifth place to their present second-place tie.

The doctors found Lach's fractured jaw fully mended and nothing now wrong with Bouchard's leg that work-outs shouldn't fix.

The physicians' report blasted stories that Bouchard was lost for the remainder of the season.

LIQUID DIET

Lach suffered his jaw fracture in a game here December 11 against Chicago Black Hawks. He lost ten pounds while wearing a steel brace that kept his jaws clamped together. He could eat only liquid foods.

Long before the clamps came off a week ago, Lach was skating regularly and his return unofficially is expected within a week.

Bouchard may be out a little longer. He was hurt November 11, also playing against the Hawks at Montreal.

When his cast came off, Bouchard's injured left leg was an inch and a half less in circumference than the right. After a few days of hobbling around he started skating. He still has some soreness and occasional pain.

Suspension, Fine For Row With Fan

SEATTLE, Jan. 28 (AP).—Joe Deson, San Francisco defenceman, was fined $50 and suspended for one game today by President Al Leader of the Pacific Coast Hockey League, for swinging his stick at a spectator in last night's game in San Diego.

Leader said the suspension would be for the next game San Francisco plays in San Diego, which will be Sunday, February 13.

The incident occurred in the second period at San Diego. Deson got into a row with fans and he and two spectators exchanged blows.

By GRANTLAND RICE

Your sight-seer was visiting with Doctor Charley Strub in his Santa Anita eyrie. The good Doc had a rather faraway look.

"I was just thinking," he said, "what we might draw here for the $100,000 Handicap if Citation were running. I can tell you almost exactly what it would be. Just about 100,000 people.

"Up to the time Armed came out, our best mark was a little over 70,000. Armed lifted the attendance record to 85,000. I know Citation would have added 15,000 to the Armed crowd. I'd like to see Santa Anita's record set at 100,000. Maybe we'll get Citation next year.

"This next Handicap will be a great one, anyway. It should be a better race without Citation, as there will be no standout. But we could use this Calumet horse."

The Doctor wasn't bothered about the falling off in attendance and betting. "We expected the drop—and could stand it without cutting down anywhere."

PUBLIC COMES FIRST

You wonder at the vast difference there would be if New York track owners had the same feeling for their public that Santa Anita and Hollywood have for theirs. Out here it is the racing public that comes first. Comfort — entertainment — above everything else.

It seems almost impossible to get New York track owners to take the least interest in the public. On top of this, both state and city put in savage gouges that help to build up a 16.6 per cent betting barrier. To the city, the state and the tracks, the racing public is about the lowest form of animal life. It is strange to try to fathom such an unreasonable philosophy, but there it is.

Santa Anita took on an added blow in its opening stages. The weather dropped from the 80 and 85 degrees of a year ago to 30 and 25. There were days the track froze and a roistering wind howled, cutting attendance figures down to 19,000 and 20,000 against expected crowds of 25,000 or more.

THE HOT DUEL

They have a steaming jockey duel under way out here that may be one of the big features.

This is the battle between Eddie Arcaro and Johnny Longden. Here are two of the greats of all time. Longden has a big bulge in total wins—well over 3,000. But I doubt that any single jockey has an edge over Arcaro in big stakes.

In other years, the Kentucky Italian, a natural athlete, had concentrated on stake victories. He never paid too much attention to ordinary races. It is all different with Arcaro now. He's another "Ride-Em-Out" Atkinson. He is out to win on every mount.

NATURAL ATHLETE

Arcaro and Longden are totally unlike. Longden is small and a bit wizened. He belongs on a horse. Arcaro is an all-round athlete. He could be a low 70 golfer in a short time, with any chance to play or practice.

It took little time to make him into a good rider. He went out for fly casting—and is now one of the best. Almost anything he tries comes along the natural route.

Arcaro has as much daring in his nature as any rider on any track. He knows when to take chances—but he sees no chance in any reckless gamble. There was a time when this was different. Eddie has calmed down from those years. He has full control of his temper and his ideas now.

Any rider who can pick up more than 3,000 winners has to know more than a little about riding a horse. This means Johnny Longden. Longden rode more than 300 winners in 1948. He hopes to pass the 300 mark again in 1949, but he has a tough contest on his hands in out-scoring Arcaro here at Santa Anita.

This is the first year Arcaro has felt himself to be in good shape. Colds and various types of flu illnesses have affected him before. Having been floored ten days by one of these virus flu attacks, we still wonder how Arcaro even sat on a horse. We couldn't even ride a bed.

GOOD APPRENTICE

Arcaro and Longden are not the only jockeys operating well out here. They have an apprentice named Glisson who looks to be one of the best young riders the track has known in many seasons. The kid knows pace — he is a fast breaker—and he can keep his horse running through the stretch, if the horse has any run left. He is about on a par with Clarence Picou through the final stages of last year.

Outside of these three we have Ralph Neves, Jack Westrope, Bob Jessop, Eddie Guerin, Basil James and many others well known across the racing map.

As for the horses to watch in the big stakes they are On Trust, Autocrat, Vulcan's Forge, Cosmic Bomb, Quarter Pole, See-Tee-Cee, Solidarity. So far no Talon has appeared against the Winter skyline with the $100,000 maturity close.

DETROIT, Jan. 28 (AP).—Detroit Tigers said today three players have returned their 1949 baseball contracts unsigned.

The three, outfielder Hoot Evers, first baseman George Vico and pitcher Lou Kretlow, are demanding more money, the Tiger management said, although they had already been offered "substantial increases."

Evers, a resident of Collinsville, Ill., led the team in hitting last year with a mark of .312.

Call Boxla Meeting

An important meeting of the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association has been called for next Thursday at 8 p.m. in the British Public Schools Club by President Doug Fletcher. Plans for the coming season will be under discussion along with other business. All managers, coaches and senior players are asked to attend.

Unhappy Bentley Denies Slump Caused by Youthful Linemates

Max Bentley, one of the finest stickhandlers and sharpshooters in the game today, took time out yesterday to look at the scoring records and what he saw opposite his name didn't make the Toronto Maple Leaf Centre too happy.

In fact, Max had to go all the way down to 24th place where it said: M. Bentley, seven goals, 13 assists, 20 points. For the two-time National Hockey League scoring champ, this feeble total in almost two-thirds of the schedule—39 games—is quite a come-down.

Fans around the circuit have been saying all along that the only trouble with Max is that Coach Happy Day has insisted on putting the Delisle, Sask., playmaker between rookie linemates for most of the season. But Bentley himself won't go for that, although he will admit his recent reunion with Joe Klukay should help him bust out of his slump.

Bentley got his last goal on Christmas night against Detroit. "Probably if I could get one goal I'd get plenty," he said. "If I could start scoring, I feel we'd wind up in the playoffs for sure."

Leaf's victory in Boston Wednesday night gave promise of better things for the defending Stanley Cup champions, who currently are holding down fourth place, only one point ahead of Chicago and two in front of the tail-end New York Rangers.

"We were breaking two and three down the ice at Boston and it's the first time I've noticed that in a long time," said Max.

Beer, Binoculars Built Record For Kritchell's Former Squad

NEW YORK, (NANA) — Gene Martin, brisk and graying New York Yankee official, after having made his headquarters in Newark for the last three seasons and who now, in the organization's revised farm-chain setup, will have charge of all business operations of the farms, took over his new desk in the Yankees' offices here for the first time this week. Shortly, George got to talking, and his subject was the old days, when managers in the minors were pretty cute and full of tricks.

"In 1918 I was starting in organized ball at Bridgeport," said Gene. "I was young and green; also nosey. It puzzled me to see our manager before the game go to his locker every day and reach in furtively, and then give a wrapped-up object to one of our players.

"We were going good and I figured that maybe the manager was giving the boys a little present for winning. I even wondered if I would get in on the handouts, but I never did. I was just a rookie gardener. It was always one of our pitchers who was rewarded and he always got the gift package the day after he had worked.

MYSTERY GIFT

"Bill Skiff, our catcher, told me not to be such a snooper, but my curiosity couldn't be curbed. Finally I discovered that what the skipper was passing out was a big pair of binoculars—in fact, the same pair—day after day.

"Well, at last I got hep to the whole thing. Our manager, a generous soul, had rented a room in an upper story of a house just back of centre field in our home park. Through the kindness of his heart he let the pitcher who had pitched, say, on Tuesday, take a rest on Wednesday and relax with a couple of bottles of beer, and the binoculars, in the room overlooking the playing field.

"The off-duty pitcher, likewise a pleasant character, in repayment for getting a day's vacation, would study the general trends of affairs through his spyglass.

"And every so often this off-duty pitcher, providing he did not get too engrossed with his bottles of beer, would stick a little square of white cardboard in the window.

"To those of our better batters who were wise to our provident manager's code, this cardboard meant that the rival pitcher was going to throw a fast ball . . . no cardboard sign, and it was a curve. You can imagine how helpful such information proved.

"As a matter of fact, the Bridgeport Americans, who were called the Americans because they were backed by the American Chain Company at a time when the term 'chain-store team' would have been a novelty, won their first eighteen games of the season. It was quite a feat, or at least a Class B record for the old Eastern League. It put Bridgeport in first place.

"And Bridgeport was still in first place when I joined up for the Great War and was sent to the navy proving grounds at Indian Head, Md. The Bridgeport Americans were still in first place when their manager later saw fit to resign after a row with the league president, old Dan O'Neill.

"No, I don't think the row was over signal-stealing and spying from outside the fence. It was due to a fight on the field and one of those players' rhubarbs that caused the manager to pick up his spyglass and move off to the shipyards.

"I always predicted that a skipper as smart as my old Bridgeport skipper would go far. And he has. He's as far up as I am, on the 29th floor of this building, and you must know him—old Spyglass Paul Kritchell, famous ivory hunter and diamond-talent scout."

Austrian Girl Takes Lead

MILAN, Jan. 28 (AP).—Eva Pawlik of Austria took the lead tonight in the women's European figure skating championship, scoring 834.8 points.

On her flashing heels — only 5.9 points behind—was Britain's champion, 18-year-old Jeanette Altwegg, with 828.6 points.

The Czecho-Slovakians' Alena Vrzanova and Jirina Nekolova were third and fourth with 818.2 and 805.8 points respectively.

Britain's Brigitte Adams was fifth with 797.6 points.

The championship will be decided tomorrow night in the Milan Ice Palace when the 13 contestants from six European countries flash through their more dramatic free skating.

The championship was restricted this year to European countries. Ottawa's Barbara Ann Scott, world and Olympic champion before she turned professional, won the European crown last year.

Tax-Burdened Fans Would Balk At Government Subsidized Sport

TORONTO, Jan. 28 (CP).—Canadian sports-governing bodies met recently in Ottawa and out of the two-day session came two recommendations for financial help to amateur sports groups in Canada.

The first was that the Dominion Government provide $10,000,000 over three years for the expansion of recreation facilities across the country. The meeting also suggested that $300,000 be given each year for development and organization of amateur sport.

Art (Cornwall Standard) Cameron says both suggestions merit consideration "were it not for one thing."

"With Mr. and Mrs. Canadian Taxpayer already groaning under their heavy loads, what are they going to say about the Government spending that much happy cabbage on sports? Especially so-called amateur sport?

"The various sports-governing organizations are evidently agreed on the conclusion that 'shamateur' sports need a shot in the arm. And they have concurred in the decision that the hypodermic needle should be filled with dollar bills."

Cameron wonders if fans are willing to see their tax money spent on a sport-improvement scheme.

"Most sport fans are already moaning about general increases in the box-office," Art says. "If it costs them much more to see these contests, they'll stay at home."

TRIPLE-THREAT PLAYER

Freddie Thomas, high-scoring ace of the Assumption College of Windsor basketball squad, Windsor, Ont., has been offered professional contracts in three sports.

The young, outstanding athlete received a bid from Toronto Argonauts to play football, is under contract with Cleveland Indians baseball club and has been chased by the Harlem Globe-Trotters and Kansas City All-Stars for basketball.

"It is a promisingly lucrative career that stretches ahead of Freddie," writes Doug (Windsor Star) Vaughan. "But all in all it is quite a problem."

Thomas wants to continue his education at the University of Toronto for a degree in optometry, so what he will do about a professional sport career is still up in the air.

"It would be nice," Vaughan says, "if he could reap a harvest out of all three sports."

Gloves Go With Him on Cruise

OFF for three months cruise on H.M.C.S. Ontario, Stores Assistant Eddie Haddad, Canadian lightweight boxing champion, smiles happily as sailing time drew near. Eddie denied recent Canadian Press statement that he was retiring from ring to follow naval career, and took along his gloves to "keep his boxing hand in." Members of ship's company are hoping Haddad will teach them finer points of boxing while on cruise.

New York Giants Acquire Negro Outfielder, Hurler

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP).—New York Giants today became the fifth major league baseball club to hire Negroes when they purchased Outfielder Monte Irvin, 28, and Pitcher Ford Smith, 26, from the Negro National League.

Their contracts were immediately turned over to Jersey City Giants, an International League farm club. Irvin and Smith will report to the Little Giants' training camp at Sanford, Fla., March 10.

Irvin was purchased from Newark Eagles and Smith was obtained from the Philadelphia Club. The latter pitched for Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League last year where he won 10 games and lost five.

Irvin was signed by Brooklyn Dodgers during the Winter but was released when it was discovered he was the property of the Eagles.

The Giants' entry into the Negro field came exactly three years and three months after the Dodgers broke the ice by signing Jackie Robinson to a Montreal contract. Robinson advanced to the Dodgers in 1947.

Irvin, a six-foot, one-inch, 180-pounder, is considered a potential big leaguer. When Branch Rickey reluctantly let him go, he said: "Some major league club ought to get him. He's sure to make good."

SAM CHAPMAN SIGNED

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 28 (AP).—Sam Chapman, Philadelphia Athletics' right-handed power hitter, today sent in his signed contract. Chapman, key member of the club since 1938, is the 34th member of the club to agree to 1949 terms.

Lawn Bowlers To Go on Tour

VANCOUVER, Jan. 28 (CP).—British Columbia lawn bowlers are planning three king-size trips during the next 13 months.

First there is the Annual Open Mid-Winter Tournament of the Southern California Lawn Bowling Association at Los Angeles, February 14 to 18. There will be rink triples and doubles events under the three-flight system.

In August, a British Columbia team will tour Ontario and Quebec for one month as a return of the visit made to the Coast by Eastern Canada bowlers two or three years ago. The party will leave for the East about the middle of August, and will play in most of the Ontario cities as well as in Montreal.

A Canadian team will visit New Zealand for three months at the end of 1949 and the beginning of 1950, and will enter a rink, a doubles, and a single in the Empire Games which are to be staged in Auckland February 4 to 11, 1950.

Secretary C. B. Brydon-Jack of the B.C. Lawn Bowling Association, Vancouver, is handling details of the tours.

Al Principe Buys Two Top Fighters

VANCOUVER, Jan. 28 (CP).—Fight Promoter Al Principe, disclosed today that he now holds the contracts of two top northwestern fighters, middleweight Billy Corbett and 118-pound Jackie Turner.

Turner and Corbett, plagued throughout their careers by managerial troubles, are Principe's ace box office attractions.

He did not disclose the price he paid for the contracts.

5 IN MEMORIAM

BELLOW—In loving memory of my dear mother, Edith Emma, who passed away January 29th, 1945.

A loving mother, so gentle and kind,
What a wonderful memory she left behind;
Long days, long nights, she bore her pain,
To wait for cure, but all in vain.
Till God himself knew what was best,
He took her home and gave her rest.

—Ever remembered by her two sons, Walter and Ernest and families.

41 WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS

$100,000

A HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS IS an awful lot of money but we expect to pay even more than this amount of good used furniture, etc., from Victoria homes during 1949. Our business has grown because we have gained a reputation for paying fair prices and spot cash for what we buy, and taking a smaller profit on what we sell. Kindly phone Wally Gray and get fair prices for what you have to sell. Ask your friends and neighbors.

SYLVAN LANE

If you have been looking for a house and have seen one you like and been disappointed in the location, or, have found an ideal site with a poor house, then your search ends with this. It has COMFORT—Living-room, 18x18, with granite fireplace, dining-room, 15x18, with leaded windows. Both rooms opening out to a veranda, 35 x 8. Two large bedrooms with connecting bathroom. All rooms of gracious proportions. The house is heated by a thermostatically controlled hot water system and contains a maid's room, toilet, shower and garage in the basement.

SECLUSION—Seldom is such privacy found even at a distance from the city. Set in a hollow in the hill, it is screened by a belt of trees, yet there is a terraced garden of two-thirds of an acre, all sheltered from prevailing winds and commanding an incomparable VIEW of the whole of Oak Bay, the Gulf Islands and shipping and in the distance Mount Baker and the Mainland.

CATARRH
and Sinus Misery
DISCOVERY
Triple Method Attacks Catarrhal Symptoms Promptly—Helps Bring Quick Blessed Relief From First Treatment
PAMPHLET SENT FREE

Some of the shaded portions of this diagram show the "air spaces" or sinuses of the head. Catarrh often collects in some of these spaces and the nasal passages and causes the disagreeable Catarrhal symptoms known so well. The entrance to the sinus often becomes swollen and congested, causing acute misery. Drainage is blocked and pain and pressure develop.
Here is a grand Free Offer that no reader of this paper suffering from the disagreeable, annoying symptoms of Nasal Catarrh and Sinus Congestion can afford to ignore. It may save the pathway to your own prompt and glorious welcome relief from the Catarrh and Sinus evils you know so well, just as it has done and is doing for a host of others who have suffered from

Nasal Catarrh, Clogged Nostrils, Difficult Breathing, Mucus Discharge, Dulled Hearing, Sinus Pain—Caused by Nasal Congestion

SATISFACTION OR NO CHARGE

Have you a "Catarrhal Cough, Clogged Nostrils, Phlegm-Filled Throat?" Do you have head noises or buzzing ringing in your ears? Is your hearing growing dull? Does your nose feel stuffed up? Are you continually obliged to clear your throat? Is breathing through the nose often difficult? Have you frontal headaches? Do you catch cold easily and is there a chronic mucus discharge that makes frequent nose blowing an embarrassing necessity? Have you offensive catarrhal breath? These are some of the common easily noted symptoms that may be caused by Nasal Catarrh so prevalent in this region and it may pay you to check them carefully.

If any of these symptoms are yours, this notice must surely interest you and cause you to write at once for our FREE PAMPHLET. Medical research has found valuable palliative virtues for such catarrhal conditions in a native Chinese herb called Ma-huang. Treated by Western Chemists the drug extract of Ma-huang used in combination with other elements of recognized merit, seems to quickly clear accessible catarrhal accumulations right out of the head, throat and nasal passages and reduce congestion, bringing a prompt and glorious relief that already has been blessed by thousands. A companion product is a splendid inhalant which is affording grand relief too. These Products cannot as yet be bought in drug stores but you can try them yourself at home without risking one dime of cost unless thoroughly satisfied.

A NEW JOY OF LIVING

Only a sufferer from catarrhal and sinus conditions such as noted above can fully appreciate how great would be the joy if these symptoms were quickly and thoroughly cleared away when they appear. Here is your chance to learn about one try for yourself this highly successful method, on "Satisfaction or No Charge" terms, which makes its trial by any sufferer an easy matter. It costs nothing to find out about it beyond postage on your inquiry, and if you have Catarrh or Sinus trouble, by all means write at once to the Heather Company for PAMPHLET with full particulars and directions. It does not obligate you to send one penny for treatment.

CHAPTER XIII—Continued

"Well, hell, look at him! He must weigh two hundred pounds. He's a rancher. Go on and pick on him, if you like. But I'd hate for him to hit me."

"What's he doing here?"

"Not blind, are you? He's dancing with the prettiest girl in town, my fran'."

"So what? Is this a country club or a corral?"

"You're talking. I'm listening, see?"

The music stopped, and Luther escorted Alita toward a long over-stuffed seat, where he saw the others in their party. All at once they saw Milton Girardeau come out of the club barroom.

"Alita!" Milton called, hastening over. "I just telephoned your house. Had some work that kept me until late, but I—"

"Milton, this is Luther. My friend from the Bar B. Only his ranch brand is the I O U. You met him this afternoon."

"Howdy do again," said Luther, extending a big hand, and smiling heartily.

"Oh yes, yes," murmured Milton, staring at the cowboy. "How are you, Tool?"

"Just fine, only it's Pool. P double o l, Pool. How's everything with you?"

Milton Girardeau was in dinner clothes, and as usual he seemed the essense of dressiness and swank. In every detail he was groomed to perfection, and his manner heightened the impression of polish. By contrast, Luther's plain clothing looked even more plain, his red shirt even more red.

Before anybody quite realized it, a little crowd had gathered around. People who were curious about the big cowboy, who was unmistakeably handsome, but who looked almost comically out of place here. Milton saw the interest people were showing. Slowly, he smiled.

He took Luther by the arm and began introducing him to people. "Want you to meet Mister Tool," he repeated again and again, sometimes winking, making quite a to-do of it. Luther responded kindly, shaking hands powerfully and making straightforward comments. He wondered if this fellow was a little deaf, calling him Tool after being told. How do you do, Mrs. Hilton; howdy, Mrs. Johns, that's a mighty pretty dress you got on; howdy, Miss Meredith, pleased to see you, ma'am; howdy do; howdy—thank you, ma'am.

A girl friend called Alita aside and she was glad to leave Luther meeting people. She had been slightly amused at his removing his spurs, and she realized he wasn't dressed in exactly correct ballroom style, but she thought little of it. She herself had been too long on the range, and had known Luther too intimately.

Milton expanded by the second. Pretty soon he had quite an interested gang around him and Luther.

"We—ah—we are intensely interested in range conditions, Mr. Tool," he began now, elaborately, a sly smile playing about his mouth. "Miss Meredith here was telling me only today that she just can't sleep at nights without knowing how the cattle are doing. How are things, um?"

Luther's smile faded a little. He didn't quite understand.

"Well," he began lamely, "you mean—"

"Correct That's just what I tried to tell Miss Meredith, wasn't it Sue?"

A splash of laughter punctuated this. Luther looked confused.

"Now, Mr. Tool," Milton went on, "can you elucidate to us city hicks the precise difference between a cow and a cattle? Uhm?"

The gang restrained its laughter, watching Luther in high amusement.

"Well," said Luther, rather seriously, but good-humoredly, "cattle and cows are really the same thing, you see. It's just our way of saying it. Of course a cow is strictly speaking a—a—well a female. You know. Whereas, the word cattle—"

"Exactly!" snapped Milton, beaming at the others, and winking. "Most fascinating study. I am shuah! What Mr. Tool means to say, Miss Meredith and you other students, is that a cow is, to all effects and purposes, a lady cattle. You see?"

An outburst of laughter halted him. Milton grinned appreciatively, and stole a glance at the cowboy beside him. Luther looked at them all for a second or two, then grinned. It was plain that he wanted to be friendly, but also plain that things were happening a trifle over his head. He sensed, right enough, that somebody had pulled a joke on him, but he didn't care. He couldn't see its point, but he could enjoy it with them. He smiled broadly now.

"Yes sir, Mister Tool," Milton resumed, with mock seriousness again. The crowd hushed instantly to listen. "Yes sir, it is most interesting. I recall a somewhat similar discussion two Summers ago in a Swiss chalet—oh, quite a merry crowd was there—and again at Bar Harbor last season the people were, I assuah you, oh definitely interested in the difference between cows and cattles. The issue became the sensation of the season, in fact. Yes indeed!"

Somebody tittered, and Luther spoke quickly.

"You're trying to kid me, Mr. Girardeau," he said, still smiling.

Most players—including many experts—are extremely conservative in doubling the opponents at less-than-game contracts. Their philosophy is, of course, readily understood, but there is such a thing as overdoing a good thing

The bidding.

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	2 ♣
2 N.T.	Pass	Pass	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

East knew very well that he was taking a big chance when he doubled two no-trump, but, everything considered, he felt that the potential gain justified the risk. There were certain factors which indicated that the opponents would not make eight tricks.

First, North had decided to "hang" one trick short of game; so it could be safely assumed that he was not very strong. Good players (and North was one) do not stop at two no-trump when there is any substantial chance for game.

The second point influencing East was that South had bid two no-trump instead of doubling the two-club overcall. This choice meant one of two things: either South did not have two club tricks, or if he did have them, his distribution did not favor a double. Considering East's void of diamonds, it was the next thing to certain that South had length in that suit, but the presumption was also strong that West would have at least one or perhaps two stoppers in the diamond suit. And East himself, of course, had the major suits well controlled.

The speculative double turned out even better than East had hoped, when West had the inspiration to lead the heart ten, instead of a club. The penalty was 800 points, but, with any opening, the double would have paid.

War-Torn Homeland Close to Hearts of Chinese As Victoria Colony Marks Opening of New Year

K. Y. WU

In a little office on the second floor of The New Republic, Victoria's Chinese newspaper, an editor sat last night, rapidly editing copy with a long brush—the Chinese pen.

It was the latest war news from "Home."

He raised tired eyes, and in a moment was the Chinese gentleman, a mandarin in his own right in China.

"Is there anything I can do for you?" he inquired in faultless English.

The reporter from The Colonist told his mission. This (last night) was the Chinese New Year's Eve. Perhaps the editor of the Chinese newspaper had something to say to the Canadians of Victoria.

"HAPPY NEW YEAR"

Quickly the editor sat down and brushed out the message above. In English it reads:

"Happy New Year to all of our friends in Victoria and the rest of Canada. May you prosper and be happy."

Then back to his copy desk. Engrossed in his work he paid no attention to the flash bulb that went off as The Colonist photographer "shot" a picture.

For K. Y. Wu, editor-in-chief of The New Republic, and his country's unofficial representative in Victoria, a war was on. Men and women were dying. The fate of his China hung in the balance with the Communists winning victory after victory.

There was the staccato bark of firecrackers in the street as young Chinese boys, born in the freedom of Canada, laughed happily, celebrating the eve of the New Year of the Moon. China, and the China war, was far away to them.

AGE-OLD GAME

In Chinese restaurants along Fisgard Street, solemn little groups of Chinese sipped China tea and ate their New Year's Eve dinner with chopsticks.

Seated around tables and along the walls at the Dart Coon Club in Fisgard Street, lonely Chinese played the age-old game of Mah-Jong, read the latest war news from home and discussed other topics of the day in the high-pitched voices of the Far East.

Their leader is in China. He is Dang Wan Jung, "master" of the Masonic Temple of the Chinese Free Masons. He is visiting relatives, and his friends have not heard from him.

The younger generation of Chinese do not go in much for celebrating the Chinese New Year, according to Jack Quan, secretary of the Dart Coon Club.

ROOTS IN CHINA

"The young Chinese celebrate the Western New Year," Mr. Quan said.

"It is the older men, whose roots still are in China, who sit and, in retrospection, see their lives as they were lived in the Mother Country. They picture loved ones they have not seen in years." And it is their wish they can save enough money to return to China to die," Mr. Quan explained.

There are approximately 3,000 Chinese in the Victoria Colony. Vancouver has 10,000, Toronto, 3,500 and Montreal, 2,000.

The majority of Chinese in Victoria are employed in restaurants, laundries and fruit stores. Many are in business for themselves catering to the tourist trade in antiques, jades and curious rings.

But along Government, Fisgard and Cormorant Streets, last night, stores were closed. Owners had shuffled off to their favorite clubs for fan tan, mah jong and the New Year's Eve round of drinks among old and tried friends.

MEDITATION

And huddled about the Chinese bulletin board at Government and Fisgard Streets, little groups read the latest news bulletins from home.

One of the oldest and most respected men in Chinatown is Chan Mow Zack, 80, who came to Victoria as a young man of 20. He is a student in the tenets of Confucius, and young and old go to him for advice. Last night, Chan spent quietly in his club, meditating on the past, the present and the future.

The passing year, which in the calender of Confucius, was 2,799, has brought many changes to China.

No outright Communists were found on the trip through Chinatown last night, but many said Chiang started out being a good man, but weakened in the end. That their leader had let China down, losing face is what they call it, was the consensus of opinion of the man in the street.

On the other hand, there were those who said it was time to change governments in China. They, however, would not go on record as saying Communism was China's salvation.

STILL AT WORK

Returning to the Chinese newspaper office, the editor was found still busily at work. He stopped to explain the latest news:

"The Communists fighting my country are led by more than 20,000 Japanese officers, many of whom have been captured in battle.

"Chiang Kai-Shek has not resigned as head of my government. He has retired from office because he refuses to treat with the Communists on any terms.

"If peace negotiations fail, Chiang Kai-Shek will again return as head of China and fight on until the end, whatever that may be."

Mr Wu's eyes flashed when he spoke of the Communists.

NOT BY CHOICE

"China will never become a Communist nation by choice," he declared.

Out in the street again, dark, silent figures walked with that quickening step of the Oriental—hastening to pay off debts before the start of the New Year.

An ancient custom of the Chinese is to start every New Year free of debt.

On the stroke of midnight, a solemn ceremony of offering a boiled chicken on the altar of the Temple, was performed.

Amid burning incense, and muttering of centuries-old prayers, 12 strokes on an ancient gong rang through the stillness.

NEW YEAR BORN

The New Year 3800 was born.

Today, in many Chinese homes there will be the New Year feast. All kinds of boiled chicken, vegetables, onions and pork will be served. Prepared in a manner seldom known to the white man, dry abalone, served sliced or diced and boiled with chicken, is an expensive dish, imported from China at a cost of $17 a pound.

Many Chinese love to gamble.

But today on the Chinese New Year, you can't get a bet on what the New Year holds for their beloved country, so many miles away.

Man Charged With Theft Of Stockings

Gavin Sinclair, 28, 642 Johnson Street, will appear in city police court this morning on a charge of theft of six pairs of stockings, the property of the F. W. Woolworth Co., Ltd., 1204 Douglas Street.

Sinclair was arrested yesterday afternoon by Det.-Sgt. Henry F. Jarvis acting on information received from a store employee.

CHEQUE THEFT

Mrs. Jean Twiss, 92 Dallas Road, reported yesterday the theft of a $55 Dominion Government cheque from her mail box recently.

E. C. Allan, Leland Apartments, 2812 Douglas Street, reported that a wooden mail box in the building had been entered and some mail stolen.

Car Damaged In Crack-Up After Theft

A car stolen Thursday night from the intersection of Fort and Yates Streets was located yesterday in a damaged condition in the yard at 2221 Lydia Street, according to a city police report.

Police said the car is owned by Murray McNeish, 1558 Vining Street. W. Rawlinson, 2221 Lydia Street, reported to police that he had found a strange car in his back yard.

Constables R. McNeill and Robert Mais attended and found it to be the McNeish car. The culprit had failed to negotiate a turn at Shelbourne and Denman Streets, smashing through a fence and coming to rest at the rear of the Rawlinson home.

Considerable damage was caused in a collision at the intersection of Douglas and Cormorant Streets at 9:20 a.m. yesterday, police said.

A car driven south on Douglas Street by John Mar, 527 Burnside Road, stopped at the west curb of Douglas Street, north of Cormorant Street, to let out a passenger, W. Davies, 680 Burnside Road, police said. The Mar car then signalled to turn left and was in collision with a truck driven south on Douglas Street by James A. Maxwell, 2834 Wyndeatt Avenue, according to police.

LONDON (CP).—Field Marshal Lord Birdwood, of Gallipoli fame, told by his doctor to "go slow," said: "I am approaching what Hindus call the age of beatitude—84. When you reach that age, they say, your future life is assured."

Need for Knowledge of Christ Urged by Inter School Fellowship

"To know Christ and to make Him known." That is the fundamental aim of the Inter-School Fellowship as explained by fellowship members from high schools in the Greater Victoria area at a meeting of the organization last night.

The students illustrated by graphic playlets the principle of Bible study, prayer and missionary work that emphasize their central aim, before a large meeting that included teachers, parents and local clergymen.

President Truman has stated that he is "at his wit's end" to know what to do about the young people of the United States, guest speaker Vincent Craven, Dominion secretary, told the audience in stressing the need for a higher moral standard in the schools of today.

The fellowship has become world-wide and non-denominational, the speaker said in tracing growth from its inception at Cambridge University in 1780.

Demands for the services of trained Christian teachers come from all quarters of the globe, he stated in a plea for more interest in practical missionary work.

A place as remote as Ethiopia is interested in this type of youth, the speaker recounted. "Haile Selassie has asked us to recommend a president for the country's new university," he said.

Mr. Craven made the warning that moral education must be intensified. "The great mass of students in Canada have no religious heritage," he deplored.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 28 (CP).—T. G. Norris, K.C., today was elected 1949 president of Vancouver Board of Trade, succeeding Howard T. Mitchell. W. G. Swan was named vice-president and Ralph D. Baker secretary at the annual meeting.

Court Ready for Appeal But Appellant Missing

Ronald Parsons, convicted and sentenced to two years for a Yukon jail break, a fellow prisoner said amounted to no more than strolling out to get a drink, should have appeared in Appeal Court yesterday to appeal his conviction.

But he wasn't there.

Confused counsel declared the Court had sent to Okalla Prison Farm, Vancouver, for the prisoner, only to find that he wasn't there, either.

Instead he was still confined in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police guardroom at Whitehorse, Yukon Territories — the same jail from which he was convicted of escaping.

According to a report sent ahead by Magistrate L. H. Phinney who had convicted Parsons and two other prisoners last December 16, for a jail break earlier that month, Parsons had pleaded not guilty to the charge.

"NEGLECTED TO RETURN"

A fellow escapee, according to the advance report, had stated during the trial:

"We were drinking in my cell. Three or four bottles of wine. We went out the door several times and got more liquor. There was no intention to escape jail. I was drunk, got out and neglected to return."

Other evidence at the trial showed that alert R.C.M.P. men, finding the prisoners missing, had spotted footprints in the snow outside the guardroom window, and soon tracked down their men.

Parsons bases his appeal, in part, on the grounds that he was charged with breaking custody by force, but points out that no force was required. Appeal Court will hear his case later.

To Open Office For Ladysmith

LADYSMITH, Jan. 28.—Establishment of an unemployment insurance office at Ladysmith to serve loggers, longshoremen, miners and others, sought for some time by Ladysmith Local 1-18, I.W.A., reached fruition Friday. John Carrigan of the Nanaimo Unemployment Insurance Office, announced that a branch would be established in the near future.

The new sub-office will be located in the Canadian Legion building, at the corner of High Street and Fiat Avenue and will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Mayor Leonard Ryan and aldermen were instrumental in obtaining quarters for the office. Samuel Guthrie, M.L.A., also took a keen interest in the matter. About 650 men in the district will be served by the branch.
